8 Policemen Are Indicted In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A U.S. attorney says the Justice Department will continue the investigation which led to federal grand jury indictments Wednesday charging eight Columbus policemen with conspiring with gamblers.

"The Columbus project is not completed," said Phillip Michael, a special U.S. attorney from Washington. He declined to say what direction the future probe would take.

The policemen were charged with accepting payoffs from organized gamblers. A ninth man, described as a Columbus numbers operator, was charged with making payoffs to policemen.

The grand jury named nine other persons, including two policemen, as co-conspirators.

Both Mayor M.E. Sensenbrenner and Police Chief Robert Baus declined to comment on the grand jury findings, saying they wanted to study the indictments. Public Safety Director Fred Simon, who heads the police department, said he had no immediate plans to suspend or penalize the officers.

No arrest warrants were issued.

Acting U.S. Dist. Atty. Roger Makley said all would be summoned for arraignment in U.S. District Court June 13.

The indictments variously allege conspiracy to use interstate facilities to aid racketeering, conspiracy to defraud the United States, and aiding and abetting in the use of interstate facilities to aid racketeering.

All nine accused were charged with conspiring to prevent the federal government from lawfully collecting wagering taexs.

Named in the indictments were:

Rockefeller Told Not To Enter Chile

Third Country To Shut Door; Tour Slated To Continue

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — A third South American country—Chile—has shut the door to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's mission, but the Nixon administration shows no sign of calling off the tour.

President Eduardto Frei's government decided Rockefeller had better stay away after two days of clashes between police and students in the capital. Wednesday a group of students stoned the U.S. Consulate and burned an American flag.

A Foreign Ministry communique said: "The Chilean government has informed Gov. Rockefeller of the convenience of suspending his visit to our country."

The communique added that Foreign Minister Gabriel Valdes would be in Washington later this week and would call on President Nixon. Valdes also will get together with Rockefeller to discuss "the purposes and objectives" of Rockefeller's visit to Chile, the communique said.

Rockefeller and a large group of experts have completed two whirlwind tours of parts of Latin America and have two more around the rest of the area scheduled. The official purpose is to collect information and data on which the Nixon administration can formulate a new policy toward Latin America. But many Latin Americans consider the tour primarily a goodwill gesture.

Rockefeller's second swing last week was curtailed before it started when Peru said he wasn't welcome because Washington had cut off military aid to Peru. That leg was trimmed some more when Venezuela over the weekend asked for postponement of the governor's visit after students threatened demonstrations. And in seven of the nine countries Rockefeller has visited, violence has marred his stays.

The governor issued a statement in New York expressing regret at the Chilean government's action but saying he fully understood it.

Sayre Named CD Director

A new director has been appointed for the East Liverpool Civil Defense organization in line with planned increased operations in the community.

Sayre, an employe of the Crucible Steel Division of Colt Industries at Midland, is a World War II veteran, onetime amateur boxer and leader of the noted VFW Post 66 drill team. He succeeds Dennis Smith Jr. who resigned three months ago.

Willshaw cited the role of Civil Defense in time of natural disaster or in the event of an airliner crash or other severe accident producing many casualties.

"I think this means our CD organization will begin to move forward," the mayor said. He pointed out the CD auxiliary police team is scheduled to be enlarged and trained. Police Chief A. J. Radeschi has agreed to assign Patrolman Orin C. Smith as the training officer, the mayor said.

Widening the scope of the local organization also will mean that a mobile hospital with equipment valued at approximately $50,000 will be moved to East Liverpool and held in readiness for use in any major disaster in the region, the mayor said.

The unit, assigned here through the Ohio Health Department at Columbus, has been held in storage at the county CD headquarters in Lisbon. The equipment includes beds, stretchers, electrical generators, medicine, surgical tools — all the material necessary for a mobile field hospital, the mayor pointed out.

Saigon Says Reds Try To Delay Talks

Claims North Viet And Cong 'Expect Military Victory'

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam accused President Nixon today of outdoing former President Lyndon B. Johnson in intensifying the Vietnamese war in pursuit of "neo-colonialist aims."

South Vietnam at the 20th session of the expanded peace talks accused the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong of trying to delay negotiations "because you expect a military victory."

The United States was more restrained, asking North Vietnam whether it was prepared to withdraw its forces in a peace settlement.

Ha Van Lau, North Vietnam's deputy representative, devoted almost his entire speech to an attack on the Nixon administration. He sat in for chief negotiator Xuan Thuy, who is in Hanoi for consultation.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who leaves later in the day en route to Midway Island for the meeting of Nixon Sunday with President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam, asked a series of questions about the Viet Cong's 10-point peace plan.

He asked North Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front to spell out specifically whether North Vietnam is prepared to withdraw its troops from South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia and what kind of international supervision would be acceptable.

On the question of a political settlement, Lodge urged the NLF to accept Thieu's offer for private negotiations. He described as unrealistic the NLF's insistence that it would not deal with the present Saigon government.

Lau reiterated that the only solution to the war must be based on the NLF's plan, including unconditional withdrawal of all American troops and establishment of a coalition government in Saigon.

"This is the only honorable way out for the United States," he said.

South Vietnam's chief negotiator, Pham Dang Lam, opened the session by declaring that "no question related to the future of the 17 million people of Vietnam can be discussed and soived without the participation and the approval" of the Saigon government.

Wellsville Youth Alive

Seaman Survives Destroyer Sinking

Two long days of fear ended Wednesday night for a Wellsville mother and father when they learned their son, a sailor on the ill - fated destroyer Robert Evans, was alive and well.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reed of 1003 Main St. were advised by the Navy their son, Seaman Robert Reed, 18, survived the Monday collision in the China Sea in which the Australian carrier Melbourne cut the U.S. destroyer in two.

Reed apparently was with the crew in the rear section of the ship which remained afloat following the collision which claimed 74 lives. The bow section sank in two minutes.

His parents tried unsuccessfully Tuesday and earlier Wednesday to learn their son's fate. Each telephone call to Navy authorities ended the same way —"We are notifying the families of the victims first, we cannot tell you anything about your son at this time."

FINALLY, the chaplain at Long Beach told Mr. Reed that if they did not hear by midnight Wednesday, they could assume Robert was alive.

However, Mr. Reed called Washington, D. C., again at about 10 p.m. and learned that Robert was alive and had been one of the survivors taken aboard the U.S. Carrier Kearsage.

Failed To Avoid Crossing Carrier's Bow

Tragic Collision At Sea Hinted Destroyer's Fault

WASHINGTON (AP) — Veteran U.S. naval officers say the burden of responsibility to avoid collision normally rests on destroyers rather than the aircraft carriers they escort.

When changing station a destroyer is supposed to avoid crossing the bow of an accompanying carrier and is required to take a wide swinging course to its new position, the officers said in interviews.

While saying they did not want to prejudge an investigation, these officers indicated they accept the Australian version of the South China Sea collision Tuesday in which the Australian carrier Melbourne sliced in half the U.S. destroyer Frank E. Evans. The bow of the Evans sank and 74 American sailors were lost.

"It sounds so much like what's happened before," one U.S. Navy man said.

The Australians have sent the U.S. Navy a classified account which reportedly pictures the Evans as turning one way when she should have turned the other.

The secret report also describes the Evans as running under the bow of the Melbourne, sources said.

In a public statement, the Australian Navy Department has claimed the collision occurred after the Melbourne ordered the Evans, ahead of her in a screen, to change station astern of the carrier.

"Evans approached on a collision course, and, despite urgent action by Melbourne, a collision occurred," the Australian navy said.

Unlike the Australians, the U.S. Navy is saying virtually nothing in public about the incident pending the outcome of a joint U.S.—Australian investigation arranged Wednesday.

One reason for this, sources said, is that the Navy Department hasn't received a report from the Evans' skipper, Cmdr. A.S. McLemore, or other officers who survived.

Most survivors were sleeping when the destroyer was chopped in two.

In their first official account of the disaster, none of the survivors interviewed reported any prior warning. But naval offi-

Air Pollution Parley Set At Cumberland

NEW CUMBERLAND — A federal interstate air pollution abatement conference concerning the Ohio Edison power plant at Toronto will open here July 8, the National Air Pollution Control Commission announced Wednesday afternoon.

The conference, which is expected to run two days, will be open to the public.

It was called under a provision of the Clean Air Act, which requires the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to take such action whenever state officials advise that residents of their state are affected by pollution originating in another state.

In this case, the city of New Cumberland, with the concurrence of Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr. and West Virginia's Air Pollution Control Commission, requested a conference because of pollution alleged to originate from the Ohio Edison facility across the river in Ohio.

Unarmed American Plane Downed Over North Viet

SAIGON (AP) — An unarmed U.S. reconnassiance plane was shot down over North Vietnam today and two escort fighter-bombers blasted the enemy antiaircraft positions, the U.S. Command reported. It was the first such attack on the north in six months.

The two crewmen of the $2-million Air Force RF4C steered their crippled plane out over the Gulf of Tonkin and bailed out. They were rescued by a helicopter three miles off the North Vietnamese city of Dong Hoi, about 45 miles north of the demilitarized zone dividing Vietnam. One of the fliers was injured and flown to the hospital ship Repose.

A U.S. spokesman said two U.S. fighter-bombers flying escort fired on the North Vietnamese antiaircraft sites with "unknown results" in the first such attack on North Vietnam since Dec. 24. On that day two escort fighter-bombers attacked a surface-to-air missile site that had fired on a Navy photo reconnaissance plane. None of the planes was hit.

The U.S. Command said it did not know the exact location over North Vietnam when the reconnaissance plane in today's incident was hit.

It was the fifth American plane the U.S. Command has reported shot down over North Vietnam since the United States stopped bombing the North last Nov. 1, and the first since Dec. 9. When it stopped the bombing, the United States announced it would continue reconnaissance flights over North Vietnam and they would be escorted by fighter-bombers.

It was the 920th American plane shot down over North Vietnam since Feb. 7, 1965, when the United States began full-scale bombing of the North.

Military sources said North Vietnam has built up a major supply depot around the coastal city of Dong Hoi since the United States halted the bombing and has ringed it with antiaircraft guns.

The U.S. Command also announced that a small Army ob-

Event Next Wednesday Will Honor Thompson

A dinner honoring W. Leland Thompson of Park Blvd. will be held next Wednesday at 7 at the East Liverpool Country Club.

It will be tendered on behalf of Israel Bonds in recognition of Thompson's service to the State of Israel and to the East Liverpool community, according to Michael Turk, chairman.

The dinner also will celebrate the 21st anniversary of the independence of the State of Israel.

"We are proud to honor Mr. Thompson," Turk said, "for his exemplary service in support of both Israel and our community. It is fitting that this tribute will be coordinated with a salute to the founding of the modern State of Israel. Our attention is drawn at this time not only to Israel's present border crisis, but to the great humanitarian, social, economic and scientific achievements of that tiny democracy."

In this connection, he stressed the unceasing moral and material support of the purchasers of Israel Bonds, which have provided the financial resources for Israel's economic development. With the aid of the Israel Bond Organization, Israel has succeeded in carrying out a large-scale agricultural setlemest and economic expansion program that has enabled 1,300,000, immigrants to find a permanent home as free and self - sustaining citizens," he said.

"In the midst of a continuing crisis in which the people of Israel are earnestly seeking and praying for a real and lasting peace settlement with its neighbors, our awareness of the sacrifices and achievements of the past 21 years must give us hope that the present trials and tensions will end soon and will be replaced by an era of progress and tranquility," Turk declared.

Co-chairmen of the tribute are Maurice Rapport and Bernard Fineman. Mrs. Alexander S. Fisher is reservations chairman.

Members of the committee include: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barlow, Mr. and Mrs. Barry Berman, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Braslawsce, A J. Brown, Mrs. Sam Caplan, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Feldman, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Fineman, Dr. Fisher, Martin Gluchow, Harry Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Greenberg, Mrs. Zangwill Kamil, Dr. J. W. Schoolnic, Albert Silverberg, David Silverman, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Silverman, Dr. William Sulkes, Mrs. Turk and Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Weiner.

Sewer Study To Be Aired At Industry

INDUSTRY — A public hearing on subdivisions and a special meeting of Council and borough engineers were set during a meeting of Council Wednesday night.

Council will meet with the engineers June 18 to consider a feasibility study of sewage in the borough. Septic tanks are used at present.

On June 27, at 7:30 p.m., Council will hold a public hearing concerning the proposed subdivision ordinance for the borough.

Council approved a plan of Helen M. Jones of Engle Rd. for dividing three lots. Frank Azzarello of Terrace Dr., Industry, presented a petition signed by residents of the road asking for improvements. It was referred to James Muns, chairman, and the road committee for recommendation.

Homer Paul, Council president, reported on a Beaver County Borough's Association dinner in May. Police Chief Ray Hendershot presented a report for Mayor Steve Suchanek showing 26 complaints answered, three arrests made and 2,228 miles logged on the cruiser.

Bills totaling $3,226 were paid. The next regular meeting will be July 2.

Andrw Jackson was the first "man of the people" to enter the White House.

Price Boosts Set July 14 By U.S. Steel

PITTSBURGH (AP) — U. S. Steel Corp. says it will raise prices July 14 on some steel products used in the heavy construction industry.

The nation's largest steel producer said it would hike prices $7 a net ton on carbon and high-strength steel plate, structural wide-flange and H piles. The price of alloy steel plates will jump $8 a ton, the company said.

Prices of these products, which represent about 16 per cent of the steel industry's total shipments, were raised about a year ago.

U.S. Steel said the present increases are 4.5 per cent of the present price, listed by industry sources as about $122 a ton for carbon and high-strength sheet, $173 a ton on alloy sheet and $124 a ton on H piles.

The company, which usually sets price trends for the industry, said the move should increase revenue seven-tenths of one per cent.

43 Harness Racing Horses Killed In Fire

SARATOGA SPRING, N.Y. (AP) — Fire raged through a public barn at Saratoga Raceway today and killed 43 harness racing horses, the raceway reported.

One of the dead was the well-known filly Jostle, winner of more than $40,000 last year.

Fire Equipment At Chester OK'd By Rating Group

"All the equipment is in good shape."

That was the report from Chief Alton Johnson to Chester firemen Wednesday night following an inspection this week by members of the State Rating Bureau at Charleston.

Further plans were made for the fair July 28 - Aug. 2. General Chairman George Allison said several requests have been made for stands and booths, but some space is still available. He asked those interested to contact him.

Parade Chairman Robert Kincaid asked those desiring to participate in the parade to notify him.

Prior to the meeting, a practice session was held under the direction of George Cowley, captain, and Gene Lytton of the Newell Department. Firemen drew water from the river during the practice. Another practice will be held June 16.

Lytton screened a film on the brush fires in California.

It was announced that additional equipment worth $1,500 has been placed in service.

The next meeting will be June 2 at the station.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I blacken a pair of brown leather shoes?

A.—First rub the shoes with sandpaper to remove all surface dirt, then rub liquid ammonia into them with a flannel cloth, and finally apply black India ink with a brush. Let dry, and polish as usual.

Q.—How can I restore a taffeta slip that has become limp?

A.—Sponge with borax and water, using a half - teaspoon of borax to a half-pint of warm water, and being sure that the borax is completely dissolved. Sponge the slip on the wrong side and, when nearly dry, iron on the wrong side with a moderately hot iron.

Q.—How can I prepare a good Welsh rarebit?

A.—Melt a tablespoon of butter over a low flame. Add a cup of grated cheese. As it melts, add ¼-cup of beer. Add ½-teaspoon of dry mustard, and a dash of cayenne to a well-beaten egg. Add this to the cheese-beer mixture, stir well, and cook one minute longer.

Lone Project Affected

U.S. Rejects Application For 'Workable Program'

A federal agency at Chicago today advised Planning Coordinator Don Eckert it has rejected East Liverpool's application for recertification of its "workable program" for community improvement, which was intended to reopen the door to U.S. aid on various local projects related to housing.

The regional office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development told Eckert it cannot accept the bulky application filed on May 9 because federal requirements have been changed and new application forms now are required.

Eckert said the action apparently affects only one contemplated local program — the apartment structure which the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters intends to erect on the site of former Central School on E. 4th St. However, other federal programs on housing are available which can be initiated without the necessity for a "workable program" and the IBOP would be free to choose one of the alternatives, Eckert said.

"I DON'T KNOW where we go from here," Eckert commented. But, he indicated, the city probably will file a new application after it has obtained additional information on new federal requirements and copies of the new blanks which are required.

Rejection of the application was explained in a letter from John E. Kane, assistant regional administrator of the HUD branch in charge of program coordination and services. Referring to the city's application, Kane said the agency "cannot accept it due to recent changes in program requirements."

"Anew workable program approach and application form are mandatory," the letter added. "It is based on a community's identification of its housing and related problems, the development of a program to deal with these problems and implementation of the program." He forwarded a booklet which he said explained the new program.

At the time Eckert forwarded the application in early May, he had learned that a new form had been initiated by HUD. However, the agency's officials had indicated they would be able to consider an application filed on the old form.

IT WAS the city's second attempt for recertification of the program. The first bid was turned down, primarily for alleged deficiencies in the city's housing program. However, Eckert believed these problems had been straightened out to HUD's satisfaction when he filed the second form.

Rejection of the application "will not interfere with any pending local programs" with the exception of the IBOP's project, Eckert said. And, he added, ways may be found to implement the IBOP program without approval of the "workable program."

An East Liverpool workable program won approval once, but only for a year. In that interval, the Columbiana Metropolitan Housing Authority received approval for its high - rise apartment project in West End and another complex for housing for low - income families off Maine Blvd. The West End project is nearing completion and construction is underway on the Maine Blvd. work.

ECKERT ALSO attended a meeting in Cleveland on a state program known as CAMPS—cooperative area manpower planning system.

He said four applications now have been filed for the post of law enforcement training officer in Columbiana County. The $840-a-month job will be filled by a county agency to plan for upgrading law enforcement agencies in Columbiana County and its political subdivisions with an anticipated federal grant of $16,000 that will be split between Stark and Columbiana Counties.

Selection of the training officer, who will draw up plans for the program, probably will be advanced at a meeting late this week or early next week, Eckert said.

Capt. Silliman Again Honored For Viet Action

Air Force Capt. Jeffrey D. Silliman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde W. Silliman of RD 3, has received his second and third awards of the Distinguished Flying Cross for air action over North Vietnam prior to the bombing halt.

Capt. Silliman, who flew the F-4D Phantom Aircraft during his combat tour, earned one DFC for destroying an enemy target that was heavily defended by surface - to - air missiles and anti - aircraft artillery.

The other DFC was for completing a difficult and hazardous combat mission against a heavily - defended vital enemy target in the vicinity of Hanoi.

The captain was presented the medals during ceremonies at the Sheppard base, Wichita Falls, Tex., where he now is serving as a T-38 instructor pilot in a unit of the Air Training Command.

Capt. Silliman, a graduate of Beaver Local High School, received his B. S. degree and commission in 1956 upon graduation from the Air Force Academy.

His wife Grace is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Romanauskas of Corte Madera, Calif.

Lone Project Affected

U.S. Rejects Application For 'Workable Program'

A federal agency at Chicago today advised Planning Coordinator Don Eckert it has rejected East Liverpool's application for recertification of its "workable program" for community improvement, which was intended to reopen the door to U.S. aid on various local projects related to housing.

The regional office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development told Eckert it cannot accept the bulky application filed on May 9 because federal requirements have been changed and new application forms now are required.

Eckert said the action apparently affects only one contemplated local program — the apartment structure which the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters intends to erect on the site of former Central School on E. 4th St. However, other federal programs on housing are available which can be initiated without the necessity for a "workable program" and the IBOP would be free to choose one of the alternatives, Eckert said.

"I DON'T KNOW where we go from here," Eckert commented. But, he indicated, the city probably will file a new application after it has obtained additional information on new federal requirements and copies of the new blanks which are required.

Rejection of the application was explained in a letter from John E. Kane, assistant regional administrator of the HUD branch in charge of program coordination and services. Referring to the city's application, Kane said the agency "cannot accept it due to recent changes in program requirements."

"A new workable program approach and application form are mandatory," the letter added. "It is based on a community's identification of its housing and related problems, the development of a program to deal with these problems and implementation of the program." He forwarded a booklet which he said explained the new program.

At the time Eckert forwarded the application in early May, he had learned that a new form had been initiated by HUD. However, the agency's officials had indicated they would be able to consider an application filed on the old form.

IT WAS the city's second attempt for recertification of the program. The first bid was turned down, primarily for alleged deficiencies in the city's housing program. However, Eckert believed these problems had been straightened out to HUD's satisfaction when he filed the second form.

Rejection of the application "will not interfere with any pending local programs" with the exception of the IBOP's project, Eckert said. And, he added, ways may be found to implement the IBOP program without approval of the "workable program."

An East Liverpool workable program won approval once, but only for a year. In that interval, the Columbiana Metropolitan Housing Authority received approval for its high - rise apartment project in West End and another complex for housing for low - income families off Maine Blvd. The West End project is nearing completion and construction is underway on the Maine Blvd. work.

ECKERT ALSO attended a meeting in Cleveland on a state program known as CAMPS—cooperative area manpower planning system.

He said four applications now have been filed for the post of law enforcement training officer in Columbiana County. The $840-a-month job will be filled by a county agency to plan for upgrading law enforcement agencies in Columbiana County and its political subdivisions with an anticipated federal grant of $16,000 that will be split between Stark and Columbiana Counties.

Selection of the training officer, who will draw up plans for the program, probably will be advanced at a meeting late this week or early next week, Eckert said.

3 Hurt In Falls Given Treatment

Three area youngsters injured in falls were among those treated and released at City Hospital Wednesday.

Suffering a contused right elbow was Timothy Barnhart, son of Richard Barnhart of Chester RD 1, in a fall from a sliding board.

Timothy Welling, son of Robert Welling of Wyoming Ave., lacerated both wrists in a fall through a storm window .

Receiving an injured right wrist in a fall from a rope swing was Tracy Lane, son of Robert Lane of 1730 Etruria St.

Capt. Silliman Again Honored For Viet Action

Air Force Capt. Jeffrey D. Silliman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde W. Silliman of RD 3, has received his second and third awards of the Distinguished Flying Cross for air action over North Vietnam prior to the bombing halt.

Capt. Silliman, who flew the F-4D Phantom Aircraft during his combat tour, earned one DFC for destroying an enemy target that was heavily defended by surface - to - air missiles and anti - aircraft artillery.

The other DFC was for completing a difficult and hazardous combat mission against a heavily - defended vital enemy target in the vicinity of Hanoi.

The captain was presented the medals during ceremonies at the Sheppard base, Wichita Falls, Tex., where he now is serving as a T-38 instructor pilot in a unit of the Air Training Command.

Capt. Silliman, a graduate of Beaver Local High School, received his B. S. degree and commission in 1956 upon graduation from the Air Force Academy.

His wife Grace is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Romanauskas of Corte Madera, Calif.

Mr. Thieu Seeks Assurance

Nothing new is likely to transpire when President Nixon and President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam confer on one of the Midway Islands Sunday.

President Thieu, in requesting the meeting, is seeking personal assurance that the United States will not act precipitously. He met with President Johnson six times between Feburary 1966 and July 1968 for the same purpose.

THE PRESIDENT of South Vietnam most fears a "false peace." In his interpretation, any type of settlement that involves a coalition government would be a false peace and represent a "sell out" by American negotiators in Paris.

President Johnson's statement at the July 20, 1968, conference in Honolulu that his administration was "determined to defend South Vietnam" while continuing to explore "every avenue that might lead to peace" was just what President Thieu wanted to hear.

President Nixon's major speeech on Vietnam last month was plainly a declaration the United States is ready to show flexibility on major points to reduce the American role in the war.

The blunt peace proposal was enough to send President Thieu on a flying trip to South Korea where he found comfort in talking things over with military-minded President ChungHee Park.

The two hawkish leaders released a joint statement opposing partial unilateral withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam and flatly renounced a coalition government with the Viet Cong.

Some new information from government sources indicates more explicitly the current direction of the Nixon administration.

Military spokesmen report that the present buildup of Vietnamese forces is not sufficient to replace U.S. ground troops fighting North Vietnamese forces.

As a matter of fact, new Vietnamese soldiers are not even being placed in combat with the North Vietnamese. They are being sent into areas traditionally controlled by the Viet Cong.

This fits into President Nixon's plan to negotiate a withdrawal of all foreign troops from Vietnam and turn the war over to the Vietnamese. Then, whether the fighting would be continued or whether some agreement could be reached would be up to the Vietnamese and not outside parties.

MR. THIEU undoubtedly fears accord between the United States and North Vietnam might be reached before he is sufficiently confident his shaky government can cope with the new political and military ramifications.

Mr. Nixon has staked his course and has asked an impatient American public to beaf with his administration long enough to get the plan into action.

For this reason, no surprises are expected when the two leaders meet on Sand Island Sunday.

The Overrun Gambit

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The District of Columbia almost had a crisis on Memorial Day weekend. The recreation department of the city decided not to open the 15 municipal swimming pools because the department did not have the funds. Mayor Walter Washington, who was informed of the decision by newspaper reporters, angrily ordered the pools opened and said he'd get the money somewhere.

Art Buchwald

Since Congress is in charge of the city's budget, the mayor could find himself in trouble. The reason is that Mayor Washington will probably appeal to Congress for funds for recreation facilities on the grounds that he needs the money to cool off the summer and give the kids in the district somehing to do to keep them out of trouble.

My friend Doyle believes this type of appeal is a waste of time.

"CONGRESS CAN'T GET excited about such arguments," he said. "They've got much bigger fish to fry."

"But what's the solution?"

"The solution to Washington's recreational budget problems can be found in the Defense Department."

"I don't understand."

"Congress is constantly telling the city it has to live within its budget. If it doles out X amount of dollars, then the district shouldn't come back and ask for Z."

"That makes logical sense," I said.

"It does," said Doyle, "in every department but defense. What is the most popular word in the military-industrial complex?"

"Overrun?"

"EXACTLY. WHENEVER a defense contractor finds that it's going to cost him more money to make something than he originally thought it would, he charges it to overrun. This is something Congress understands. No one in this country expects a defense contractor to stay within the price he originally bid to win the contract."

"Of course not," I said.

"OK," Doyle said. "Congress is getting used to overruns. One hundred million dollars here, $500 million there, a billion dollars someplace else. It is all part of the game."

"But what has that got to do with Mayor Washington?"

"Instead of the mayor going up to the Hill and pleading on his hands and knees for extra money to see him through the long, hot summer, he should go up there and proudly announce he's had an overrun on the recreation program of $10 million and apologize to Congress that it wasn't more."

"Would Congress go for it?"

"Of course, if the mayor explained it. He could say the overrun was caused by inflation, spare parts for recreation centers, labor problems and mistakes made in his department in estimating the recreational needs of the district."

"He'd be speaking their language," I admitted.

"The mayor would continue by warning that Moscow now has more playgrounds than Washington and the playground gap might become insurmountable by 1975."

"Why, it's the old Soviet gap trick," I said.

"RIGHT. WHEN CONGRESS hears that Moscow is building more playgrounds, it will not only demand parity but superiority in the stockpiling of playgrounds. The mayor will not only get his money but they'll insist he take more than he needs."

"It could work," I said.

"Of course it could work," Doyle said. "But it all depends on the mayor's attitude. If he's humble, Congress will have no respect for him. But if, after he gets his funds, he warns them that he can't guarantee there won't be another overrun before the summer is over, they'll carry him out of the hearing room on their shoulders."

Thoughts

"Hearken to me, you who know righteousness, the people in whose heart is my law; fear not the reproach of men, and be not dismayed at their revilings."—Isaiah 51:7.

"In the sweat of your face you shall eat bread till you return to the ground, for out of it you were taken; you are dust and to dust you shall return"—Genesis 3:19.

Be ashamed to die until you have won some victory for humanity.—Horace Mann, American educator.

Therefore let any one who thinks that he stands take heed lest he fall.—I Cor. 10:12.

"In all things I have shown you that by so toiling one must help the weak, remembering the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive'."—

Letters To The Editor

Bridge Suggestion

I think we should keep the bridge. We should put a large statue of Jesus in the middle of the bridge—up high—and have it lit up at night.

Also decorate the bridge. In this way, East Liverpool would be noted for something else besides the Ohio River and potteries. Heaven knows we all need to be reminded of Jesus.

Maybe it will make the reckless drivers stop and think. They could make the bridge noted all over the United States as the "Bridge of God." I think this would be a beautiful site.

Road Criticized

The evening of May 29 my husband and I went out to Locust Hill Cemetery to my father's and mother's graves to fix them for Memorial Day.

If I were one of the Hancock County Commissioners, I would be ashamed to say that we take care of the roads in the county, because the road to the cemetery is nothing but pot holes — any size, you name it, and they are in that road.

The funeral homes in this area should refuse to travel that road to the cemetery, for by the time they get the body there, the person they are burying would be shaken up completely or turned over in the casket, and the people instead of grieving for their loved one would be wondering if they themselves will make it to the cemetery and back alive.

Thanks Expressed

This is a letter of appreciation to the wonderful people we met in East Liverpool by accident.

We were in North Benton when we discovered my friend left her purse in a gas station in East Liverpool. The East Liverpool telephone operators did all they could to find the right service station, but we had to call city policeman Ronald Brookes to locate it.

East Liverpool should be proud of its telephone operators, Mr. Brookes and Roger Edwards, the attendant at the Harvey Ave. service station for honest and courteous help to strangers.

VICTOR RIESEL

Another Radical Appears

WASHINGTON — Just as he has been pounding at the pulpits of peaceful churches, bearded James Forman soon will be pounding on corporate tables and trade union doors demanding new "reparations" in the billions of dollars.

Victor Riesel

The bearded director of international affairs of SNCC ("Snick") hardly intends to stand peaceably in the pews of the nation's great religions. Those who, out of the graciousness of sensitive reaction to past sufferings, believe Mr. Forman to be seeking financial restitution, have not read his Manifesto. Nor have they traced his travels to East Africa in general and Maoist-imbedded Tanzania in particular.

Mr. Forman has developed a concept of "Total Power."

To win this, the six-foot, well-stocked, always angry Jim Forman advocates total terror and a "perpetual state of guerrilla warfare."

Always agitational, the peripatetic Mr. Forman has utter contempt for other radical leaders, be they white or black. He means to leave them far behind in his effort to "bring down" the U.S. government. Those who believe his words are the rhetoric of confrontation don't know James Forman. Where the others are activists, he is an actionist. While the others confront, he conspires. Where others are militant and content with sporadic upheaval, he is dedicated to a movement to seize all means of production.

THOSE WHO BELIEVE he challenges only gentle churchmen should know that he is deliberately taking on the entire black establishment.

"Ironically, some of the most militant Black Nationalists, as they call themselves," he said recently, "have been the first to jump on the bandwagon of black capitalism. They are pimps: Black Power pimps and fraudulent leaders. The people must be educated to understand that any black man or Negro who is advocating the perpetuation of capitalism inside the U.S. is in fact seeking not only his ultimate destruction and death, but is contributing to the continuous exploitation of black people all around the world.

" . . We live inside the U.S. . . . and we have a chance to bring this government down."

At this moment, James Forman is preparing to switch from the ecclesiastical frontier to the industrial front. We have his own Manifesto as corroboration.

"WHILE WE TALK of revolution," said he, "which will be an armed confrontation and long years of sustained guerrilla warfare inside this country, we must also talk of the type of world we want to live in. We must commit ourselves to a society where the total means of production are taken from the rich people and placed into the hands of the state . . . That is what we mean when we say total control."

Mr. Forman sees his movement seizing control over "everything that exists."

His specific targets, for the moment, are General Motors, Ford, Chrysler, the DuPonts, the Rockefellers and the Mellons.

Mr. Forman tells his people that they, his small band, could cripple the economy of the U.S. This would come by seizing, or disrupting, or striking a bargain "with the chief industries in this country."

TO SEIZE "STATE POWER," Mr. Forman's "Total Power" movement sees itself using the power of the gun. This unread Manifesto of his is far, indeed, from the still peaceful manner in which he is confronting churchmen. It's obvious that Mr. Forman's band has begun their long march and that there is more in his concept of violence than in concentration on religious reparation.

A more realistic impression of Mr. Forman can be gathered from a black cultural festival held at Tougaloo College, Tougaloo, Miss., April 11 to 13. Extremist SNCC and Black Panther speakers urged the college students to overthrow the government, first by arming themselves, then by violence, and to support the Third World Movement.

Mr. Forman makes no secret of his bid for total power, or of his plans to confront American industry, or of his plans to stand face to face with the nation's big unions, or to take over the state.

He knows where he wants to go. It is unfortunate that so few heed his disdainful warning.

When he says total power, he means just that. He will not make it. But a long red glow will mark his trail.

Odd Facts

The most persistent U.S. presidential candidate was Norman Thomas, who was nominated six times by the Socialist Party and defeated at each election. His last candidacy was in 1948 in the election won by Harry S. Truman.

The 10 longest-running plays in New York have been in order: Life With Father, Tobacco Road, My Fair Lady, Abie's Irish Rose, Oklahoma, Hello Dolly, South Pacific, Harvey, Fiddler On The Roof and Born Yesterday.

The Andes Mountains, which stretch the entire length of the South American continent, are the longest and second highest range in the world. They are rich in deposits of copper, lead, silver, tin, zinc and many other minerals —but they also hinder the development of the interior of the continent by blocking transportation from the interior to cities on the western coast.

The Harm Of Dissension

WASHINGTON — The war in Vietnam is being prolonged and peace talks in Paris are not making progress. The North Vietnamese, aided and supported by the Soviet and Chinese Communists, are determined to make no concessions of importance.

They insist instead upon the withdrawal of American troops from Southeast Asia.

The persons responsible for the weakening of the position of the American government at the negotiating table are here in the United States. Some of them are Communists who help to instigate riots and disturbances in many countries.

Some of them are misguided individuals in the colleges who are opposed to the war in Vietnam. Some of them are members of Congress who are attacking their own government in the midst of war — an unprecedented instance of what would have been regarded as disloyalty during past wars.

DISSENSION WITHIN the United States has been one of the biggest benefits to the Communist cause. An example of how much America is being damaged by internal criticism is to be found in a broadcast made at 8 Monday morning of this week over CBS radio by Bernard Kalb from Hong Kong. He said:

"North Vietnam is exploiting Sen. Kennedy's recent criticism of President Nixon's policies on Vietnam. Interestingly, the senator's remarks were featured today in several Vietnamese language news broadcasts — that is, broadcasts for domestic consumption — indicating that Hanoi believed that this criticism of Washington's policy would boost or strengthen North Vietnamese morale.

"In its broadcast, Radio Hanoi maintained that — and this is a quote — 'statements by U.S. Senate leaders show that progressive Americans resolutely oppose the Nixon policy of supporting the traitor administration of Nguyen Van Thieu.' Thieu is president of South Vietnam.

"The Hanoi broadcast named Sens. Kennedy, Mansfield, Javits and Mondale but they concentrated on the remarks made by Sen. Kennedy.

"Radio Hanoi quoted the Massachusetts senator as sharply criticizing the Saigon regime. About two weeks ago, Sen. Kennedy spoke out for the first time in the Senate against the Nixon administration's Vietnam policy, charging that military action such as the recent battle for Hamburger Hill were both senseless and irresponsible."

President Thieu of South Vietnam is convinced that, even if the Communists accept some form of peace settlement at Paris, they will be doing so just to obtain the withdrawal of allied forces.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers, who has been traveling throughout Southeast Asia, has talked frankly with friendly governments who have expressed privately their fears about our policy.

The belief is growing that the dissenters inside America will influence future decisions and that a bigger war in Asia may come within a few years if the United States pulls out now and there is no firm guarantee that Communist aggression will cease.

Thera has been some quibbling about the fact that no actual declaration of war has ever been made with respect to Vietnam. But the truth is that Congress not only has by joint resolution authorized the use of American military forces in Southeast Asia, but has appropriated funds regularly to carry on the Vietnam War.

THERE WAS NO DECLARATION of war when the United States entered the Korean War under the auspices of the United Nations and Congress had ample opportunity then, as it has today, to pass a resolution opposing the continuance of the war.

The United States is engaged in a war involving more than a half-million men in the armed services but is being harmed by the discord at home.

In fact, the casualties have increased and the war has been lengthened due to the belief of the enemy that America is full of dissatisfaction and will eventually accept "peace at any price" and order its forces to come home.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Mrs. Mary Mickey was elected councilor of Pride of Valley Council 4, Daughters of America.

Miss Clara Jane Smith of Avondale St. left for Sterling, Kan., to attend the summer term at Sterling College.

Charles Shapiro of East Liverpool was graduated from Carnegie Institute of Technology with a bachelor of architecture degree.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Harry Ray Shaff of Salineville was graduated from Ohio Northern University, Ada, as the third in his family to receive a degree in pharmacy from the school.

Three firemen were overcome and loss was estimated at more than $10,000 when flames raged through the City Bar in Diamond Alley.

TEN YEARS AGO — Lawrence E. Brokaw was named high priest of the East Liverpool Chapter 100, Royal Arch Masons, replacing Herman E. Miller.

William B. Cooper was named chairman of the reactivated City Traffic Commission.

The reason is that Mayor Washington will probably appeal to Congress for funds for recreation facilities on the grounds that he needs the money to cool off the summer and give the kids in the district somehing to do to keep them out of trouble.

My friend Doyle believes this type of appeal is a waste of time.

"CONGRESS CAN'T GET exeited about such arguments," he said. "They've got much bigger fish to fry."

"But what's the solution?"

"The solution to Washington's recreational budget problems can be found in the Defense Department."

"I don't understand."

"Congress is constantly telling the city it has to live within its budget. If it doles out X amount of dollars, then the district shouldn't come back and ask for Z."

"That makes logical sense," I said.

"It does," said Doyle, "in every department but defense. What is the most popular word in the military-industrial complex?"

"Overrun?"

"EXACTLY. WHENEVER a defense contractor finds that it's going to cost him more money to make something than he originally thought it would, he charges it to overrun. This is something Congress understands. No one in this country expects a defense contractor to stay within the price he originally bid to win the contract."

"Of course not," I said.

"OK," Doyle said. "Congress is getting used to overruns. One hundred million dollars here, $500 million there, a billion dollars someplace else. It is all part of the game."

"But what has that got to do with Mayor Washington?"

"Instead of the mayor going up to the Hill and pleading on his hands and knees for extra money to see him through the long, hot summer, he should go up there and proudly announce he's had an overrun on the recreation program of $10 million and apologize to Congress that it wasn't more."

"Would Congress go for it?"

"Of course, if the mayor explained it. He could say the overrun was caused by inflation, spare parts for recreation centers, labor problems and mistakes made in his department in estimating the recreational needs of the district."

"He'd be speaking their language," I admitted.

"The mayor would continue by warning that Moscow now has more playgrounds than Washington and the playground gap might become insurmountable by 1975."

"Why, it's the old Soviet gap trick," I said.

"RIGHT. WHEN CONGRESS hears that Moscow is building more playgrounds, it will not only demand parity but superiority in the stockpiling of playgrounds. The mayor will not only get his money but they'll insist he take more than he needs."

"It could work," I said.

"Of course it could work," Doyle said. "But it all depends on the mayor's attitude. If he's humble. Congress will have no respect for him. But if, after he gets his funds, he warns them that he can't guarantee there won't be another overrun before the summer is over, they'll carry him out of the hearing room on their shoulders."

Bridge Suggestion

I think we should keep the bridge. We should put a large statue of Jesus in the middle of the bridge—up high—and have it lit up at night.

Also decorate the bridge. In this way, East Liverpool would be noted for something else besides the Ohio River and potteries. Heaven knows we all need to be reminded of Jesus.

Maybe it will make the reckless drivers stop and think. They could make the bridge noted all over the United States as the "Bridge of God." I think this would be a beautiful site.

Road Criticized

The evening of May 29 my husband and I went out to Locust Hill Cemetery to my father's and mother's graves to fix them for Memorial Day.

If I were one of the Hancock County Commissioners, I would be ashamed to say that we take care of the roads in the county, because the road to the cemetery is nothing but pot holes — any size, you name it, and they are in that road.

The funeral homes in this area should refuse to travel that road to the cemetery, for by the time they get the body there, the person they are burying would be shaken up completely or turned over in the casket, and the people instead of grieving for their loved one would be wondering if they themselves will make it to the cemetery and back alive.

Thanks Expressed

This is a letter of appreciation to the wonderful people we met in East Liverpool by accident.

We were in North Benton when we discovered my friend left her purse in a gas station in East Liverpool. The East Liverpool telephone operators did all they could to find the right service station, but we had to call city policeman Ronald Brookes to locate it.

East Liverpool should be proud of its telephone operators, Mr. Brookes and Roger Edwards, the attendant at the Harvey Ave. service station for honest and courteous help to strangers.

VICTOR RIESEL

Another Radical Appears

WASHINGTON — Just as he has been pounding at the pulpits of peaceful churches, bearded James Forman soon will be pounding on corporate tables and trade union doors demanding new "reparations" in the billions of dollars.

Victor Riesel

The bearded director of international affairs of SNCC ("Snick") hardly intends to stand peaceably in the pews of the nation's great religions. Those who, out of the graciousness of sensitive reaction to past sufferings, believe Mr. Forman to be seeking financial restitution, have not read his Manifesto. Nor have they traced his travels to East Africa in general and Maoist-imbedded Tanzania in particular.

Mr. Forman has developed a concept of "Total Power."

To win this, the six-foot, well-stocked, always angry Jim Forman advocates total terror and a "perpetual state of guerrilla warfare."

Always agitational, the peripatetic Mr. Forman has utter contempt for other radical leaders, be they white or black. He means to leave them far behind in his effort to "bring down" the U.S. government. Those who believe his words are the rhetoric of confrontation don't know James Forman. Where the others are activists, he is an actionist. While the others confront, he conspires. Where others are militant and content with sporadic upheaval, he is dedicated to a movement to seize all means of production.

THOSE WHO BELIEVE he challenges only gentle churchmen should know that he is deliberately taking on the entire black establishment.

"Ironically, some of the most militant Black Nationalists, as they call themselves," he said recently, "have been the first to jump on the bandwagon of black capitalism. They are pimps: Black Power pimps and fraudulent leaders. The people must be educated to understand that any black man or Negro who is advocating the perpetuation of capitalism inside the U.S. is in fact seeking not only his ultimate destruction and death, but is contributing to the continuous exploitation of black people all around the world.

" . . We live inside the U.S . . . and we have a chance to bring this government down."

At this moment, James Forman is preparing to switch from the ecclesiastical frontier to the industrial front. We have his own Manifesto as corroboration.

"WHILE WE TALK of revolution," said he, "which will be an armed confrontation and long years of sustained guerrilla warfare inside this country, we must also talk of the type of world we want to live in. We must commit ourselves to a society where the total means of production are taken from the rich people and placed into the hands of the state . . . That is what we mean when we say total control."

Mr. Forman sees his movement seizing control over "everything that exists."

His specific targets, for the moment, are General Motors, Ford, Chrysler, the DuPonts, the Rockefellers and the Mellons.

Mr. Forman tells his people that they, his small band, could cripple the economy of the U.S. This would come by seizing, or disrupting, or striking a bargain "with the chief industries in this country."

TO SEIZE "STATE POWER," Mr. Forman's "Total Power" movement sees itself using the power of the gun. This unread Manifesto of his is far, indeed, from the still peaceful manner in which he is confronting churchmen. It's obvious that Mr. Forman's band has begun their long march and that there is more in his concept of violence than in concentration on religious reparation.

A more realistic impression of Mr. Forman can be gathered from a black cultural festival held at Tougaloo College, Tougaloo, Miss., April 11 to 13. Extremist SNCC and Black Panther speakers urged the college students to overthrow the government, first by arming themselves, then by violence, and to support the Third World Movement.

Mr. Forman makes no secret of his bid for total power, or of his plans to confront American industry, or of his plans to stand face to face with the nation's big unions, or to take over the state.

He knows where he wants to go. It is unfortunate that so few heed his disdainful warning.

When he says total power, he means just that. He will not make it. But a long red glow will mark his trail.

The Harm Of Dissension

WASHINGTON — The war in Vietnam is being prolonged and peace talks in Paris are not making progress. The North Vietnamese, aided and supported by the Soviet and Chinese Communists, are determined to make no concessions of importance.

They insist instead upon the withdrawal of American troops from Southeast Asia.

The persons responsible for the weakening of the position of the American government at the negotiating table are here in the United States. Some of them are Communists who help to instigate riots and disturbances in many countries.

Some of them are misguided individuals in the colleges who are opposed to the war in Vietnam. Some of them are members of Congress who are attacking their own government in the midst of war — an unprecedented instance of what would have been regarded as disloyalty during past wars.

DISSENSION WITHIN the United States has been one of the biggest benefits to the Communist cause. An example of how much America is being damaged by internal criticism is to be found in a broadcast made at 8 Monday morning of this week over CBS radio by Bernard Kalb from Hong Kong. He said:

"North Vietnam is exploiting Sen. Kennedy's recent criticism of President Nixon's policies on Vietnam. Interestingly, the senator's remarks were featured today in several Vietnamese language news broadcasts — that is, broadcasts for domestic consumption — indicating that Hanoi believed that this criticism of Washington's policy would boost or strengthen North Vietnamese morale.

"In its broadcast, Radio Hanoi maintained that — and this is a quote — 'statements by U.S. Senate leaders show that progressive Americans resolutely oppose the Nixon policy of supporting the traitor administration of Nguyen Van Thieu.' Thieu is president of South Vietnam.

"The Hanoi broadcast named Sens. Kennedy, Mansfield, Javits and Mondale but they concentrated on the remarks made by Sen. Kennedy.

"Radio Hanoi quoted the Massachusetts senator as sharply criticizing the Saigon regime. About two weeks ago, Sen. Kennedy spoke out for the first time in the Senate against the Nixon administration's Vietnam policy, charging that military action such as the recent battle for Hamburger Hill were both senseless and irresponsible."

President Thieu of South Vietnam is convinced that, even if the Communists accept some form of peace settlement at Paris, they will be doing so just to obtain the withdrawal of allied forces.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers, who has been traveling throughout Southeast Asia, has talked frankly with friendly governments who have expressed privately their fears about our policy.

The belief is growing that the dissenters inside America will influence future decisions and that a bigger war in Asia may come within a few years if the United States pulls out now and there is no firm guarantee that Communist aggression will cease.

Thera has been some quibbling about the fact that no actual declaration of war has ever been made with respect to Vietnam. But the truth is that Congress not only has by joint resolution authorized the use of American military forces in Southeast Asia, but has appropriated funds regularly to carry on the Vietnam War.

THERE WAS NO DECLARATION of war when the United States entered the Korean War under the auspices of the United Nations and Congress had ample opportunity then, as it has today, to pass a resolution opposing the continuance of the war.

The United States is engaged in a war involving more than a half-million men in the armed services but is being harmed by the discord at home.

In fact, the casualties have increased and the war has been lengthened due to the belief of the enemy that America is full of dissatisfaction and will eventually accept "peace at any price" and order its forces to come home.

Biafra To Free 18 Oilmen Who Were Sentenced To Die

LISBON (AP) — Heeding a Portuguese request, the Biafrans are going to release the 18 foreign oilmen they sentenced to death, the Portuguese Foreign Ministry announced Wednesday night.

A spokesman said the men—14 Italians, three West Germans and one Lebanese—would be free after some procedural matters are worked out. He did not elaborate.

Portugal, one of the secessionist state's most important allies, protested the death sentences Tuesday in what a government spokesman described as "the strongest possible language."

The oilmen were captured by the Biafrans last month in the state of Midwest Nigeria where they were working on a drilling job for AGIP, an oil exploration firm run by the Italian state petroleum company and Phillips Petroleum Co. of Bartlesville, Okla.

Eleven other foreign oilmen —10 Italians and a Jordanian— were slain when fighting between Biafran and Nigerian troops reached their camp near Kwale. The bodies of the 11 were found last week when the Nigerians regained the oil camp.

The Biafrans claimed the foreigners were fighting alongside the Nigerians, but AGIP denied this. Nigerian army officers who recaptured the campsite said the bodies had been burned by the Biafrans.

There had been speculation that Biafran leaders would demand aid from foreign governments or petroleum firms as their price for freeing the men. But the Portuguese announcement made no reference to a deal.

Biafra has accused foreign oil compnies of collaborating with the Nigerian government in the civil war. Biafran Information Minister I. Y. Eke asserted Wednesday: "The moment oil companies stop paying royalties to the federal government, at that moment the war will stop." Nigeria's oil is in the eastern region where the Biafrans declared their independence, but much of the oil lands have been regained by the Nigerian army.

Meanwhile, a Canadian oilman reported Wednesday that he and three American companions were robbed of $1,000 Sunday by Nigerian soldiers who roused them from their beds in an isolated camp about 25 miles southwest of Kwale.

Dennis McCaughey of Ponaka, Alta., said: "We were thinking about about what happened at Kwale, but we didn't talk about it until the men left." The Americans were Leon Fitzsimmons, Sallisaw, Okla.; Deland Cannaday, Stillwater, Okla., and Bob Lester of California.

None of the four was injured, but Fred E. Lae, manager of the Sante Fe Drilling Co. of Sante Fe Springs, Calif., flew to Benin City, capital of the Midwest state, to demand protection from the Nigerian army.

Senate Seen Studying Bills To Hit At Organized Crime

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Civil Liberties Union says the Senate is considering bills that would strike unconstitutionally and in shotgun fashion at organized crime.

Lawrence Speiser, director of the ACLU's Washington office, testified Wednesday against several bills being considered by the subcommittee on criminal laws and procedures.

"At a time in our history when mounting fear and often outrage at increasing criminal activity is the prevailing mood," he said, "it is all-too-tempting to try to meet that threat by circumventing constitutional guarantees."

Noting that Congress authorized federal and state wiretapping—which the ACLU opposed as unconstitutional—Speiser said the union does not believe there is a crying need for further legislation as has been proposed.

Speiser argued that a bill to make it possible to compel testimony from some witnesses against mobsters and to provide for "special offender" sentencing would not necessarily be limited to use against organized crime.

He envisioned possible use of the bill to label student militants or antiwar dissentersas "special offenders" subject to prison terms of up to 30 years.

The ACLU official also argued against a proposal to expand powers of federal grand juries to allow them to issue investigation reports.

"Our position to any kind of grand jury reports, short of indictments, rests on the fundamental unfairness and inherent abusiveness of such reports," he said.

"An individual, group of organization made the subject of such a report has no comparable means of disputing any allegations or defending against such criticism," he said.

Speiser also objected to a bill providing general immunity to witnesses testifying before grand juries, courts, administrative agencies and congressional proceedings. He said the immunity grants would not be broad enough to insure a witness would not be prosecuted on other charges.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I protect my brass doorknobs, escutcheon plates, and other such ornamental hardware from corrosion and pitting?

A.—By periodically rubbing with a thin layer of paste wax. Clean thoroughly with metal polish or scouring powder first, then rub on the wax, and buff vigorously when dry. Renew once or twice a year to insure continuing protection.

Q.—How can I make a good, dead-black, non-glossy paint?

A.—By thinning some lampblack with turpentine or mineral spirits.

Head Of Schools Files $1 Million Defamation Suit

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A $1 million suit charging defamation of character has been filed by suburban North Royalton School Supt. Nolan E. Correll against the North Royalton Education Association and Robert Dickard, NREA president.

Correll's lawyer, Joseph Kalk, said the suit filed in Common Pleas Court Wednesday was brought as a result of "false, malicious and intentional statements impugning his (Correll's) professional character." The suit asks $1,002,500 in damages.

Correll was exonerated last month by the North Royalton Board of Education after complaints were filed by the NREA and the Ohio Education Association (OEA) charging him with "unethical practices."

Bishop Confirms His Resignation Was Submitted

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The Most Rev. James P. Shannon has confirmed he submitted his rtsignation last Nov. 23 as auxiliary bishop of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of St. Paul-Minneapolis and as pastor of St. Helena's church in Minneapolis.

In a letter to the Minneapolis Star, Bishop Shannon said he wanted to "set the record straight" and reveal some facts not made public following reports last week that he had resigned.

An Archdiocese spokesman had said last Friday Bishop Shannon "has not resigned—there has been no resignation." The archdiocese declined to comment Wednesday night.

Bishop Shannon said he resigned because he could not concur with Pope Paul's birth control encyclical. He said after the resignation he was asked to consider one of three possible future assignments outside the United States without pastoral duties.

In his letter to the Star, the bishop said, "It has now become clear to me that I cannot bring myself to accept any of these invitations . . .

"Needless to say, I am today a deeply troubled man. Next week completes my 23rd year as a member of the Catholic priesthood, in my opinion, the most honorable fraternity in the world."

Task Force Report Says Americans Blood-Minded

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans are a rather bloody-minded people who "are likely to remain so as long as so many of us think violence is an ultimate solution to social problems," a task force for the National Commission on Violence reported today.

The 300,000 word report by two scholars was released on the anniversary of the fatal shooting of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, whose assassination led to formation of the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence.

It's the first of several task force reports to be issued by the commission, which already has published investigative studies of several civil disorders in the United States in 1968.

The main body of the bulky, two-volume report is a collection of historical and sociological studies delving into violence in the United States since its founding.

A brief summary—by historian Hugh Davis Graham of Johns Hopkins University and political scientist Ted Robert Gurr of Princeton—contained these observations:

"Americans have always been a violent people, although this violence has assumed different forms and has involved different groups . . .

"But Americans have been given to a kind of historical amnesia that masks much of their turbulent past. Probably all nations share this tendency to sweeten memories of their past through collective repression, but Americans have probably magnified this process of selective recollection, owing to our historic vision of ourselves as a latter-day chosen people, a New Jerusalem."

But, Graham and Gurr say, "the 1960s rank as one of our most violent eras."

Added to the black-white confrontations of recent years, the scholars said:

"Contemporary antiwar protest is unprecedented, both in scope and magnitude, as is university unrest and the chilling recent contagion of political murders of national leaders . . .

"Rates of violent crime may have generally declined as the industrial metropolis matured, only to have spiraled alarmingly in recent years—much of it reflecting the pathology of the black ghettoes."

The report offered these statistical measures:

—"In numbers of political assassinations, riots, politically relevant armed group attacks, and demonstrations, the United States has been among the half-dozen most tumultuous nations in the world.

"But despite its frequency, civil strife in the United States has taken much less disruptive forms than in many non-Western and some Western countries."

—"Eleven of every thousand Americans took part in civil strife from mid-1963 to mid-1968—almost all of it turmoil rather than conspiracy or internal war—compared with an average of seven per thousand in 17 other Western democracies in a similar five-year period."

—"Six of these 17 had higher rates of participation than the United States, including Belgium, France, and Italy.

—"Although 220 Americans died in violent civil strife in the five years before mid-1968, the rate of 1.1 per million population was infinitesimal compared with the average of 238 deaths per million for all nations, and less than half the European average of 2.4 per million.

—"In total magnitude of strife, taking into account the unusual frequency and duration of strife in the United States as well as its more moderate levels of participation and casualties, the United States ranks first among the 17 Western democracies, and 24th among the 114 larger nations and colonies of the world."

"Paradoxically," the report said, "we have been both a tumultuous people and a relatively stable republic."

Graham and Gurr said a primary reason why violence persists in the United States is that "some fundamental grievances in the United States have not only gone unresolved but have intensified in recent years."

The ethnic and cultural mix of the U.S. population, they said, "has meant all but inevitable group competition, friction and conflict."

"Safety" was the program theme when the Elwood 4-H Club met at the Jefferson St. School in Newell.

Quick Senate Okay Slated For Burger

WASHINGTON (AP) — Warren E. Burger, up today for Senate confirmation as chief justice, feels he has no commitments to either conservative or liberal philosophies in his direction of the Supreme Court.

Senate action on the appointment of Burger as successor to Chief Justice Earl Warren was speeded up by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

The Republican senator suggested to Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield that the Senate act immediately on the nomination instead of waiting until Monday. Mansfield, who had said previously that the Senate would make a full investigation of all future court nominees, raised no objection.

Burger himself was surprised by the speedup, but he seemed eager to get into harness as the chief justice.

The nominee told friends he feels he is taking his place as the head man on the court without any mandate to follow any particular political philosophy.

He was especially emphatic in denying that he was a captive of the conservatives who have hailed his promotion from the District of Columbia court of appeals as an indication of Presiden Nixon's support of their viewpoint.

Burger insisted he could not be classed as either a conservative or a liberal. He indicated he felt comfortable in the middle of the road. While he had acquired the reputation of being a strict constructionist of the Constitution, the judge reminded his friends that he was proud of the liberal opinions he had rendered as a member of the judiciary.

He intimated that conservatives who believe he is in their pocket might be surprised by his course.

Burger repeated his statement before the Senate Judiciary Committee that every case coming before him had to stand on its own merits.

He indicated he would be less concerned by philosophical than by the legal aspects of these cases. But at the same time, he would not disregard the impact of any decision on the course of national life.

His first action after confirmation, Burger made it clear in these conversations, would be to huddle with Warren on the duties of chief justice and the operations of the high court.

At 61, Burger is looking forward to managing the high court on a plane comparable to that attained by Warren. He obviously does not expect unanimous decisions such as that Warren won in the 1954 school desegregation case, but Burger has a political background that most of his associates feel will serve him well in enlisting a majority of the court on his side in important decisions.

(Krsna Slava). A program will be presented by the Church School children and the Junior Choir and recognition of the Orthodox graduates of the area will be featured.

Original purpose of the Mason and Dixon Line was to settle a dispute between the Maryland and Pennsylvania proprietors with respect to the southern boundary of Pennsylvania. The line has become a symbolic border between North and South, both politically and socially.

Warm Spell, Rain Termed Area's Need

"We need warmer weather and a good shower."

The average temperature for the month was 58 degrees, compared with the 76-year average of 57.9.

The average sunshine was pretty much the same, with 64 per cent, compared with the 76-year 65 per cent.

The DOCTOR Says

Wage War Against Common Housefly

With no friends and countless enemies, the housefly has shown remarkable ability to survive. The adult lives only about 30 days but during this time the female usually lays over 100 eggs every four days. Counting children, grandchildren, etc., one female fly under ideal conditions could be the progenitor of over 5 trillion flies in one summer.

Dr Brandstadt

From this it can be seen that, if a few are eaten by birds, a few more are swatted and a fair number succumb to insecticides, the survivors can close ranks and still look forward to a rosy future.

—:—

SINCE FLIES feed on filth and may carry disease germs to your table, the problem boils down to keeping them away from your food. From the community standpoint the best way to deal with them is to destroy their breeding places — manure piles in the country and uncovered garbage cans in the city.

In your home you should keep door and window screens in good repair. If any flies sneak past or through these barriers, track them down relentlessly with spray bomb, fly paper, trap or swatter. The disease you prevent may be dysentery, typhoid or the viral hepatitis that is becoming more prevalent each year.

Q—What causes Dupuytren's disease? Is there any cure for it?

A—I assume you are referring to Dupuytren's contracture. This is a progressive thickening of the strong fibrous sheath between the skin of the palms and the tendons of the hand muscles. The exact cause is not known but heredity seems to be a factor. The usual treatment is surgical correction. Recent studies show that prolonged stretching by a physiotherapist may be helpful.

Q—What is the cause of myelofibrosis with myeloid metaplasia? Can it be cured?

A—In myelofibrosis there is a spotty replacement of the bone marrow. Myeloid metaplasia is another name for this disease, the cause of which is unknown. Transfusions may be needed. Busulfan and male hormone are used in the treatment. In some victims, removal of the spleen is beneficial.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

peared in several California newspapers — that the Robert E. Evans would not return — that it would be involved in a crash at sea.

Robert told his parents that several men had asked for transfers after the prediction, and several had been transferred.

—:—

REED WAS told that his son will undergo a day of interrogation concerning the collision after the ship docks in the Phillipines. Then he is expected home on leave.

Robert was serving as a barber aboard the Evans and also in the supply room.

Robert also pulled "watch" duty, serving four hours off and four hours on as lookout at the rear of the ship. This is a duty that is shared and not constant. Reed said there were two lookouts at the front of the ship and one at the rear.

Another former Wellsville boy, Seaman Gary Smith, 19, was aboard the Kearsage when it picked up the survivors.

Smith, son of Mrs. Betty Smith of East Liverpool and Clyde Smith of Wellsville, and Reed attended school in Wellsville and know each other.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed are leaving today for Parris Island, S. C., where another son, William E. Reed, 19, will be graduated from basic training in the Marine Corps.

Reed said that reservations for this trip have been made for some time, but they didn't know until this morning whether or not they would be able to attend. "Things were really upset," Mr. Reed commented.

"The telephone has been ringing off the hook. Robert has many friends and everyone has been calling for news about him."

Reed works in the transportation department at Crucible Steel Co. Division of Colt Industries in Midland. Two other sons, David Reed, 23, of Glenmoor and Gerald Reed, 21, of Wellsville, also work at Crucible.

David was born in England where Mr. and Mrs. Reed were married.

peared in several California newspapers — that the Robert E. Evans would not return — that it would be involved in a crash at sea.

Robert told his parents that several men had asked for transfers after the prediction, and several had been transferred.

—:—

REED WAS told that his son will undergo a day of interrogation concerning the collision after the ship docks in the Philippines. Then he is expected home on leave.

Robert was serving as a barber aboard the Evans and also in the supply room.

Robert also pulled "watch" duty, serving four hours off and four hours on as lookout at the rear of the ship. This is a duty that is shared and not constant. Reed said there were two lookouts at the front of the ship and one at the rear.

Another former Wellsville boy, Seaman Gary Smith, 19, was aboard the Kearsage when it picked up the survivors.

Smith, son of Mrs. Betty Smith of East Liverpool and Clyde Smith of Wellsville, and Reed attended school in Wellsville and know each other.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed are leaving today for Parris Island, S. C., where another son, William E. Reed, 19, will be graduated from basic training in the Marine Corps.

Reed said that reservations for this trip have been made for some time, but they didn't know until this morning whether or not they would be able to attend. "Things were really upset," Mr. Reed commented.

"The telephone has been ringing off the hook. Robert has many friends and everyone has been calling for news about him."

Reed works in the transportation department at Crucible Steel Co. Division of Colt Industries in Midland. Two other sons, David Reed, 23, of Glenmoor and Gerald Reed, 21, of Wellsville, also work at Crucible.

New Date Set On Charge In Fatal Mishap

Granting a prosecution motion for a continuance, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a hearing Wednesday, June 25, for Robert S. Ryan, 23, of Dairy Ln., charged with failure to stop after an accident as the aftermath of a mishap in which a 15-year-old girl was injured fatally early on the morning of May 30.

Ryan, represented by George A. Aronson, entered a "not guilty" plea this morning on the charge filed by Officer N. L. Carroll of the Ohio Highway Patrol. Aronson then advised the court he was ready for trial.

Asst. Solicitor Robert Simpson, requesting the continuance told the judge he has not had an opportunity to confer "with all the parties involved in this case." He suggested the continuance until June 25 and the court consented after receiving an assent from defense counsel.

The court also continued Ryan's $1,000 appearance bond. The entire procedure required only a minute or two.

The patrol officer filed the charge against Ryan in connection with the death of Barbara J. Pickin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Pickin of Dairy Ln., who died May 31 in City Hospital of injuries suffered in the accident on Dairy Ln.

New Date Set On Charge In Fatal Mishap

Granting a prosecution motion for a continuance, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a hearing Wednesday, June 25, for Robert S. Ryan, 23, of Dairy Ln., charged with failure to stop after an accident as the aftermath of a mishap in which a 15-year-old girl was injured fatally early on the morning of May 30.

Ryan, represented by George A. Aronson, entered a "not guilty" plea this morning on the charge filed by Officer N. L. Carroll of the Ohio Highway Patrol. Aronson then advised the court he was ready for trial.

Asst. Solicitor Robert Simpson, requesting the continuance told the judge he has not had an opportunity to confer "with all the parties involved in this case." He suggested the continuance until June 25 and the court consented after receiving an assent from defense counsel.

The court also continued Ryan's $1,000 appearance bond. The entire procedure required only a minute or two.

The patrol officer filed the charge against Ryan in connection with the death of Barbara J. Pickin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Pickin of Dairy Ln., who died May 31 in City Hospital of injuries suffered in the accident on Dairy Ln.

ANN LANDERS

The Games People Play

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: This is for the lady who referred to her body as "the most precious gift she has for her bridegroom" — and to others who labor under this gross illusion.

When women stop thinking of their bodies as "gifts," men will cease to think of them as prizes to be won.

One of the principal problems with our cultural setup is caused by the games people play. If a sexual relationship has any real significance it must be mutually desirable. Tell it like it will you please? — FROM BERKELEY.

Dear Berkeley: Your thesis sounds solid, but close examination reveals a serious flaw. You completely disregard the instinctive role of the male as the aggressor.

Yes, I'm well aware that some dames are so aggressive a guy has to sleep with his track shoes on, but, according to the accepted mores of our society, the male is still supposed to be the hunter and the female is his target.

Inquisitive Kin

Dear Ann: Please tell me if "because he's my brother" is a good enough reason to insist on knowing every move my husband makes? His widowed sister lives across the street from us and her nosiness drives me crazy.

What she doesn't see from her window she telephones and asks about.

"Whose car was out in front of your place from 8:30 till 11?" "You received a telegram this morning. Is everything all right?" "I saw the delivery boy from the drug store ring your bell a few minutes ago. Is somebody sick?"

This evening was the last straw. She called a few minutes ago and said, "I saw Gerald leave the house in his good suit. Where did he go?"

Do I have the right to tell her to mind her own business? If you say so I'll do it. — SICK OF HER.

-:-

Dear S.O.H.: Of course you have the right. But do you have the courage? Every time you answer a none-of-your-business type question you make it easier for her to ask the next one.

When you get really fed up you'll tell your sister-in-law off and that will end the inquisition or at least discourage her prying.

All Mixed Up

Dear Ann: My husband is bright when it comes to his work, but he lacks common sense. Last night at mealtime he took a pill to help him diet and an antibiotic for a touch of dysentery. He then fixed himself a very stiff highball "to relax."

After dinner he drank a can of beer and washed down two sleeping pills with a slug of bourbon, "to insure a good night's rest."

I worry about him. He says I'm foolish. Am I?— WORRY WART.

-:-

Dear Wart: No. He is. Pills and alcohol can be a dangerous combination. Also, some drugs should not be mixed. Your "bright" husband could wake up one morning and find himself shaking hands with St. Peter. Tell him he's playing with dynamite, and if he doesn't believe you to check with a doctor.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, ensclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Patrolman William Monac Jr. and Mrs. Sharon French, a resident of the apartment, testified. Patrolman James DiTullio also had been subpoenaed, but did not testify.

Al Steff, assistant district attorney, acted for the state. Patrolman Monac was the first to testify. He explained how he received a call of a shooting and what he found when he arrived on the scene. He was accompanied by Patrolman DiTullio.

Monac said the woman was lying in the bedroom and quoted Borges as saying, "I didn't meant to shoot her. Get a doctor. God help her."

Monac said in answer to a question, Borges added "I don't lie to you. I didn't mean to shoot her." The officer then told how the defendant led him to a kitchenette and showed him where the gun was between the folds of a mattress in a fold-away bed.

In answer to questions about the body, Monac said there were some marks and the nose and the eyes were puffed.

Officer DiTullio took Borges to the police station. Borges was wearing an undershirt, pants and was without shoes when police arrived, according to testimony.

The attorneys also studied photographs taken at the scene by Don Parker, a Midland photographer.

Chief D'Itri said Borges was not interrogated and that Borges requested a lawyer after being notified of his rights. Borges told the chief at the scene, as he was being handcuffed, "Why you do that? I don't mean to kill her. We fight over the gun."

Mrs. French testified seeing Borges arrive at the apartment between 2 and 2:10 a.m., about the same time she arrived. She said as she was preparing to go to bed, she heard a door opening and closing and pounding. She said someone said "Let me in." Then, she said, a door opened and closed.

She said about 10 minutes later she heard two shots. Then someone ran up the stairs and called "Sandra! Sandra!" Mrs. French said Borges was standing at the second level when she opened the door of her third - floor apartment.

Mrs. French notified police and summoned an ambulance. She told the court Miss Byrd was alive, moaning and twisting when she entered the apartment.

The Grand Jury will meet about July 26.

Borges appeared in a light green shirt, brown sweater and dark trousers. He smoked frequently and sat most of the time with his head resting on his right hand.

Abraham Lincoln did not obtain a majority of the popular vote when he first ran and was elected to the office of president, although he received a majority in the Electoral College because of the split in the Democratic party, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS, stewardess Shirley Ross sees herself as she would have looked in the original United Air Lines uniform in 1930. According to a recent survey, today's average new stewardess is two years younger, six pounds heavier and flies four months longer before retiring than her 1930 counterpart.

servation plane and two Army UH-1 helicopters were shot down Tuesday and Wednesday in various parts of South Vietnam. Thirteen Americans aboard the three aircraft were killed.

One helicopter was downed Tuesday night near the headquarters of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division 40 miles north of Saigon. Seven Americans were killed.

The second helicopter was shot down Wednesday 35 miles southwest of Da Nang, killing five Americans. One crewman was killed when the observation plane was hit Tuesday night four miles northwest of Pleiku, in the central highlands.

In Saigon, meanwhile, South Vietnamese police were put on a 100 per cent alert following the worst rash of terrorist explosions in nearly a month.

Police sources said the all-out alert would continue until Tuesday, two days after the Midway Island meeting Sunday between President Nguyen Van Thieu and President Nixon. The sources said allied forces had captured instructions to Viet Cong terrorists to step up their activity over the weekend and to carry out some sort of spectacular attacks on Saturday and Sunday nights.

Police were ordered to increase security measures throughout the city. Checkpoints were set up, and suspicious persons and vehicles were searched.

Six incidents of "enemy terrorist activity" were reported in the capital today, U.S. headquarters said.

Five were explosions that killed three Vietnamese civilians and wounded seven. In the sixth incident, a U.S. serviceman was wounded when a blasting cap exploded as he was disarming a two-pound mine planted in the central market.

The Viet Cong claimed today that it has established a "people's revolutionary committee" —a sort of local government—in Saigon. The Viet Cong Radio said the seven-member committee was set up following a series of meetings late last month.

Monac said in answer to a question, Borges added "I don't lie to you. I didn't mean to shoot her." The officer then told how the defendant led him to a kitchenette and showed him where the gun was between the folds of a mattress in a fold-away bed.

In answer to questions about the body, Monac said there were some marks and the nose and the eyes were puffed.

Officer DiTullio took Borges to the police station. Borges was wearing an undershirt, pants and was without shoes when police arrived, according to testimony.

The attorneys also studied photographs taken at the scene by Don Parker, a Midland photographer.

Chief D'Itri said Borges was not interrogated and that Borges requested a lawyer after being notified of his rights. Borges told the chief at the scene, as he was being handcuffed, "Why you do that? I don't mean to kill her. We fight over the gun."

Mrs. French testified seeing Borges arrive at the apartment between 2 and 2:10 a.m., about the same time she arrived. She said as she was preparing to go to bed, she heard a door opening and closing and pounding. She said someone said "Let me in." Then, she said, a door opened and closed.

She said about 10 minutes later she heard two shots. Then someone ran up the stairs and called "Sandra! Sandra!" Mrs. French said Borges was standing at the second level when she opened the door of her third - floor apartment.

Mrs. French notified police and summoned an ambulance. She told the court Miss Byrd was alive, moaning and twisting when she entered the apartment.

The Grand Jury will meet about July 26.

servation plane and two Army UH-1 helicopters were shot down Tuesday and Wednesday in various parts of South Vietnam. Thirteen Americans aboard the three aircraft were killed.

One helicopter was downed Tuesday night near the headquarters of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division 40 miles north of Saigon. Seven Americans were killed.

The second helicopter was shot down Wednesday 35 miles southwest of Da Nang, killing five Americans. One crewman was killed when the observation plane was hit Tuesday night four miles northwest of Pleiku, in the central highlands.

In Saigon, meanwhile, South Vietnamese police were put on a 100 per cent alert following the worst rash of terrorist explosions in nearly a month.

Police sources said the all-out alert would continue until Tuesday, two days after the Midway Island meeting Sunday between President Nguyen Van Thieu and President Nixon. The sources said allied forces had captured instructions to Viet Cong terrorists to step up their activity over the weekend and to carry out some sort of spectacular attacks on Saturday and Sunday nights.

Police were ordered to increase security measures throughout the city. Checkpoints were set up, and suspicious persons and vehicles were searched.

Six incidents of "enemy terrorist activity" were reported in the capital today, U.S. headquarters said.

Five were explosions that killed three Vietnamese civilians and wounded seven. In the sixth incident, a U.S. serviceman was wounded when a blasting cap exploded as he was disarming a two-pound mine planted in the central market.

The Viet Cong claimed today that it has established a "people's revolutionary committee" —a sort of local government—in Saigon. The Viet Cong Radio said the seven-member committee was set up following a series of meetings late last month.

Underwent Lung Operation May 23

Zimmerman, Justice 26 Years, Claimed At 77

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Supreme Court Justice Charles B. Zimmerman, 77, died early today in University Hospital.

Zimmerman, who had served on the high court for 36 years, underwent a lung operation May 23. His condition became complicated by pneumonia suffered several weeks before the operation.

Judge Zimmerman would have been 78 years old June 22.

He was admitted to the Ohio Bar in 1913 at the age of 22. He was educated at Wittenberg University and Harvard Law School. In 1933 he was appointed to the Ohio Supreme Court by George White, the governor at that time.

He served on the court ever since with the support of Ohio voters through six elections. During his tenure, the Springfield Democrat's court decisions earned him the label of a moderate liberal.

The son of one of the oldest Lutheran families in Springfield. His father was John L. Zimmerman.

During World War I Zimmerman spent 15 months in France with the Ohio National Guard, 4th Division of the Regular Army and 82nd Division of the National Army. He was awarded the victory medal with three battle clasps.

He served as a member of the board of directors of Wittenberg University from 1942 to 1962 and was a past president of the Springfield Kiwanis Club and the Ohio Society of the Sons of the American Revolution.

He held honorary degrees from Wittenberg University, Bowling Green State University, Susquehanna University and the University of Cincinnati. His autobiography has appeared in Who's Who in America since 1934.

During his time on the Supreme Court he served with 32 jusitces. In 1946 he was the only Democratic candidate for state office to be elected. That was when Republican Thomas J. Herbert of Columbus beat Democrat Frank J. Lausche of Cleveland for governor.

Two years ago Judge Zimmerman announced his term would be his last.

"My wife," he said at the time, "won't let me run again. She was opposed to my running the last time."

Other survivors, including the widow, Dorthy, are two sons and a daughter.

2 Ohio Spellers Survive 9 Tests In National Bee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Ohioans were among 23 youngsters who survived Wednesday's first nine rounds of the National Spelling Bee.

Six from the Buckeye State were eliminated.

The 14 girls and nine boys who moved on to today's final rounds included Teresa Merch, 14, of Tipp City and David Weinshenker, 12, Cincinnati.

The Ohio casualties were:

Joyce Altrudi, 13, Youngstown, who misspelled the word "madras" as "madrass."

Raymond Bules, 12, Akron, who thought "bishopric" was spelled "bishoprych."

Glen Allerhand, 13, South Euclid, who spelled "askance" with a C where the K should have been.

Robert Ruggles, 14, Jackson, who missed on "cutlery," which he spelled "cutlary."

Search On For Man In Ohio Jail Escape

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —A search was on today for Willis Jones, 41, who escaped from the county jail Wednesday by jumping from a second floor corridor window.

Authorities said Jones, who was being held for armed robbery, was considered dangerous. They said he may have been hurt in the leap from the window.

Driver Cited For Hit-Skip After Crash

A Negley woman was cited for drunken driving and leaving the scene of an accident in one of two mishaps investigated Wednesday by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

A Lisbon area man was injured in the other accident—a collision between a tractor-trailer truck and auto.

Jesse Geneva Zirot, 48, of Negley was arrested by the patrol after another motorist chased and halted her on Route 170 after a collision a mile south of East Palestine at 10:05 p.m.

Officers said the woman was headed south and her car forced an oncoming auto off the road and struck a northbound 1963 sedan operated by Roger E. Clark, 19, of Neeld Rd., East Palestine, in the north lane.

She continued south, the patrol said, until the driver of a third auto turned around and stopped her.

She was charged with driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident.

Robert L. Desmond, 33, of Lisbon RD 5 was taken to Salem City Hospital after his 1956 coach and a tractor - trailer rig collided on Route 45 north of Lisbon near the intersection with Route 344.

The patrol said the rig was driven by Merle R. Gotthardt, 45, of New Waterford, who sounded his horn and started to pass Desmond's car. Desmond began to make a left turn and the two vehicles collided.

The truck went off the left side of the road into a field. The car spun around and stopped on the east berm. Desmond was cited for failure to use turn signals.

Bill's Chance In House Uncertain

Statewide Fluoridation Approved By Ohio Senate

By DIANA STOVER
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess plans to let a bill requiring statewide fluoridation of water supplies "go its merry way."

Kurfess, R-4 Perrysburg, explained that he hasn't decided whether to support the bill, which passed the Senate Wednesday.

"I haven't the slightest idea," he said about the bill's prospects in the House, where considerable opposition is expected.

The Senate adopted the bill 23-10 after almost two hours of debate.

Opposition was led by Sens. Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati and Robin T. Turner, R-14 Marion, who contended that it violated the principle of home rule.

At present, 42 per cent of the state's population drink fluoridated water. The cities had to vote fluoridation in by referendum.

The bill requires all water supplies serving 20,000 or more persons to be fluoridated by Jan. 1, 1971 and those serving 5,000 to 20,000 persons by Jan. 1, 1972.

This would mean that about 91 per cent of the state's population would drink fluoridated water.

Maloney argued that the bill "deprives people of home rule and the right to decide whether they want it."

The bill's sponsor, Sen. Oakley C. Collins, R - 18 Ironton, said there is no scientific proof of any harmful effects of fluoridation.

He said fluoridated water would result in a "huge savings to the Ohio taxpayer" because it prevents tooth decay in children.

Maloney submitted two amendments that were defeated.

One to require the Department of Health to reimburse communities for the cost of installing machinery to fluoridate water went down 20-13.

Maloney also proposed that local communities be able to have referendums on fluoridation. Under this amendment, if a community voted against fluoridation, it would take precedence over such a state law. It lost 18-15.

The Senate had a second spirited debate before passing a bill to allow cities and counties to call in the Ohio Highway Patrol in cases of riots, civil disorders or insurrections.

Senate Democrats opposed the bill, contending it would create a state police force.

The vote on the bill, which earlier passed by the House, was 22-1. It now goes to the governor for his signature.

All Senate Democrats, except Ronald M. Mottl, D-21, Parma, voted against it.

"This bill is a fundamental step toward a police state," said Sen. William B. Nye, D-28 Akron.

Nye said it would take away local control because once the governor agreed to send in the patrol he "would be in complete control" until he determined the riot was over.

Carney said the National Guard should be called in during disturbances.

In the House, a bill to discourage the flow of cigarettes into Ohio from states with low cigarette taxes was adopted 87-3. It now goes to the Senate.

It prohibits anyone from possessing cigarettes with a wholesale value of more than $60 that have not been taxed by Ohio.

The growth in the number of scientists and inventors has produced a world output of about 6 million scientific papers, which are now increasing at the rate of about 500,000 annually.

79 Believed Victims In Plane Crash

MONTERREY, Mexico (AP) — Seventy-nine persons, including Mexico's hope for the Davis Cup and a former president of the nation's ruling party, are believed to have died in the crash of a Mexican jetliner on a mountain.

A helicopter pilot who flew over the wreckage of the Mexicana de Aviacion plane reported debris was scattered across the side of the mountain 30 miles west of Monterrey and was still burning hours after the crash Wednesday. He said there was no chance anyone survived and no sign of life on the cloud-covered mountain.

Rescue workers were within eight miles of the scene when bad weather and rugged terrain halted them Wednesday night. Military authorities said 300 soldiers, police and volunteers would try to climb the mountain today and hoped to reach the crash site by early afternoon.

Two U.S. Coast Guard helicopters from New Orleans, La., and Corpus Christi, Tex., and several helicopters sent by the Mexican government were to try to reach the scene this morning if there was a break in the rainy, foggy weather.

Authorities said if the choppers couldn't land on the mile-high mountain, climbers would try to bring the bodies out by "sheer manpower." There are no roads on the uninhabited mountain in the Sierra Madres, and the climb is a dangerous one.

The Boeing 727 jet was approaching Monterrey airport on a flight from Mexico City Wednesday morning when the pilot was told the landing strip was closed due to bad weather. He headed northwest, and it was thought he might have landed at an alternate airfield.

But when there was no further word of the plane, more than a score of aircraft joined a search of the desolate region around Monterey.

On the passenger list were Rafael Osuna, Mexico's top tennis player, who engineered his country's upset victory over Australia in the Davis Cup interzone play last month, and Carlos Madrazo, former president of the Institutional Revolutionary party, and his wife.

Bill Hikes Penalties For False Fire Alarm

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House has passed and sent to the Senate a bill that would increase the penalties for turning in a false fire alarm. The vote was 192-1.

The bill, approved Wednesday, would set a $200 minimum fine and raise the maximum fine from $500 to $1,000 in most cases.

However, if the false alarm resulted in death, injury or property damage, the offender could be fined up to $2,000 and spend three years in jail.

Bill's Chance In House Uncertain

Statewide Fluoridation Approved By Ohio Senate

By DIANA STOVER
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess plans to let a bill requiring statewide fluoridation of water supplies "go its merry way."

Kurfess, R-4 Perrysburg, explained that he hasn't decided whether to support the bill, which passed the Senate Wednesday.

"I haven't the slightest idea," he said about the bill's prospects in the House, where considerable opposition is expected.

The Senate adopted the bill 23-10 after almost two hours of debate.

Opposition was led by Sens. Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati and Robin T. Turner, R-14 Marion, who contended that it violated the principle of home rule.

At present, 42 per cent of the state's population drink fluoridated water. The cities had to vote fluoridation in by referendum.

The bill requires all water supplies serving 20,000 or more persons to be fluoridated by Jan. 1, 1971 and those serving 5,000 to 20,000 persons by Jan. 1, 1972.

This would mean that about 91 per cent of the state's population would drink fluoridated water.

Maloney argued that the bill "deprives people of home rule and the right to decide whether they want it."

The bill's sponsor, Sen. Oakley C. Collins, R - 18 Ironton, said there is no scientific proof of any harmful effects of fluoridation.

He said fluoridated water would result in a "huge savings to the Ohio taxpayer" because it prevents tooth decay in children.

Maloney submitted two amendments that were defeated.

One to require the Department of Health to reimburse communities for the cost of installing machinery to fluoridate water went down 20-13.

Maloney also proposed that local communities be able to have referendums on fluoridation. Under this amendment, if a community voted against fluoridation, it would take precedence over such a state law. It lost 18-15.

The Senate had a second spirited debate before passing a bill to allow cities and counties to call in the Ohio Highway Patrol in cases of riots, civil disorders or insurrections.

Senate Democrats opposed the bill, contending it would create a state police force.

The vote on the bill, which earlier passed by the House, was 22-1. It now goes to the governor for his signature.

All Senate Democrats, except Ronald M. Mottl, D-21, Parma, voted against it.

"This bill is a fundamental step toward a police state," said Sen. William B. Nye, D-28 Akron.

Nye said it would take away local control because once the governor agreed to send in the patrol he "would be in complete control" until he determined the riot was over.

Carney said the National Guard should be called in during disturbances.

In the House, a bill to discourage the flow of cigarettes into Ohio from states with low cigarette taxes was adopted 87-3. It now goes to the Senate.

It prohibits anyone from possessing cigarettes with a wholesale value of more than $60 that have not been taxed by Ohio.

The growth in the number of scientists and inventors has produced a world output of about 6 million scientific papers, which are now increasing at the rate of about 500,000 annually.

79 Believed Victims In Plane Crash

MONTERREY, Mexico (AP) — Seventy-nine persons, including Mexico's hope for the Davis Cup and a former president of the nation's ruling party, are believed to have died in the crash of a Mexican jetliner on a mountain.

A helicopter pilot who flew over the wreckage of the Mexicana de Aviacion plane reported debris was scattered across the side of the mountain 30 miles west of Monterrey and was still burning hours after the crash Wednesday. He said there was no chance anyone survived and no sign of life on the cloud-covered mountain.

Rescue workers were within eight miles of the scene when bad weather and rugged terrain halted them Wednesday night. Military authorities said 300 soldiers, police and volunteers would try to climb the mountain today and hoped to reach the crash site by early afternoon.

Two U.S. Coast Guard helicopters from New Orleans, La., and Corpus Christi, Tex., and several helicopters sent by the Mexican government were to try to reach the scene this morning if there was a break in the rainy, foggy weather.

Authorities said if the choppers couldn't land on the mile-high mountain, climbers would try to bring the bodies out by "sheer manpower." There are no roads on the uninhabited mountain in the Sierra Madres, and the climb is a dangerous one.

The Boeing 727 jet was approaching Monterrey airport on a flight from Mexico City Wednesday morning when the pilot was told the landing strip was closed due to bad weather. He headed northwest, and it was thought he might have landed at an alternate airfield.

But when there was no further word of the plane, more than a score of aircraft joined a search of the desolate region around Monterey.

On the passenger list were Rafael Osuna, Mexico's top tennis player, who engineered his country's upset victory over Australia in the Davis Cup interzone play last month, and Carlos Madrazo, former president of the Institutional Revolutionary party, and his wife.

Bill Hikes Penalties For False Fire Alarm

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House has passed and sent to the Senate a bill that would increase the penalties for turning in a false fire alarm. The vote was 192-1.

The bill, approved Wednesday, would set a $200 minimum fine and raise the maximum fine from $500 to $1,000 in most cases.

However, if the false alarm resulted in death, injury or property damage, the offender could be fined up to $2,000 and spend three years in jail.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Snuffs 'Em Out Pronto

DEAR HELOISE: If you hava a grill, don't throw away those dead ashes in the bottom of it after you get through cooking your hamburgers or steaks — if you can afford them.

Heloise

The ashes are great to put in those big outdoor ashtrays on patios to snuff out a cigarette. If you don't believe it, gather some and try it.

MARY ANN WEBBER.

You know, I didn't believe you, Mary. I gathered some and, honest to goodness, when I stuck a lighted cigarette in it, it went out as quick as you said. No smoldering at all.

Just think of the many cars with ashtrays on the dashboard where you can never snuff a cigarette out.

I know you all are laughing. I did too until I tried it. Then I laughed on the other side.

I also put some ashes in flower beds along with the little bitty leftover pieces of charcoal and mixed it good.

Wonderful, too, for potting plants.

HELOISE.

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: This morning my brother, sister, and I were arguing over who was going to read the funnies in the newspaper.

Since there are only two parts of the funnies and three of us, my mother said, "Here, let me see both sections." She took her scissors and cut them into four separate parts.

Now there is no arguing about the comics anymore, and we can finish reading faster by taking turns like that.

YOUNG READER.

DEAR HELOISE: For a little extra treat for your kiddos, try fixing little toasted, open-faced peanut butter sandwiches.

All you have to do is to cut the bread in small squares, spread with peanut butter and top with a small piece of bacon. Toast until bacon is done.

Just takes a few minutes and the children just love them.

In fact, I have used these at parties for the grownups and was always complimented on the tasty hors d'oeuvres.

DOTTIE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a helpful hint I discovered one very hot day last summer.

My two-month-old baby girl had finished her bottle and needed to be burped. Because she was wearing only a diaper, I couldn't pat her bare back with the palm of my hand without hurting her skin. Putting a hand towel between my hand and her hot little back was ineffective, because it kept sliding off after a couple pats.

So I put one of my cotton quilted pot holder mitts on my hand to burp her. It works nicely and the mitt absorbs some of the moisture from her warm skin.

PATRICIA RICH.

DEAR HELOISE: I inherited an old wardrobe chest from a relative last year that was a beautiful piece of furniture, but I really had no use for it — or so I thought.

I had always wanted extra storage space in my dining room so I decided to use this chest.

Well, I just polished it up real well and got my husband to put small shelves in the side that had been used to hang clothes.

Then in the upper small side I stored tall vases and candlesticks. The drawers below held napkins, candles, napkin rings, playing cards, and scorepads.

On the shelves I put glasses, small snack trays and pitchers.

It really is a conversation piece anytime anyone sees it. And oh, so handy.

Water Department Contract Is Granted

The Board of Public Utilities granted a contract Wednesday to the Ohio Power Co. to furnish electrical energy for all operations of the city water department.

The new 10-year contract will become effective Aug. 1. Ohio Power specified these rates for 10,000 kilowatt hours, $1.66 per kwh.; next 90,000 kilowatt hours, $1.16 per kwh., and all over 100,000 kilowatt hours, 86 cents per kwh.

Although Ohio Power was the only concern which could bid, Ohio law requires a public agency to call for sealed bids before awarding a contract.

Ohio House Unit Won't Bring Out Disorders Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —A House Education subcommittee will not bring out a bill aimed at preventing campus disorders.

"Testimony before our subcommittee has indicated that present laws are adequate," said Subcommittee Chairman Norman A. Murdock, R-7 Cincinnati.

Murdock said Wednesday night that judges and prosecutors who testified before his subcommittee felt present criminal statutes were adequate.

Murdock said the subcommittee's two other members, Reps. Larry R. Nord, R - 98 Warren and Richard M. Christiansen, D - 17 Mansfield, also agreed there should be no bill.

The subcommittee held seven hearings on six campus disturbance bills. One would have expelled students convicted of crimes in connection with student disturbances and to forever bar them from admission at any state university in Ohio.

Gunman Nabs $4,526 At Pittsburgh Bank

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A gunman dressed in soiled work clothes robbed a teller of $4,526 in cash at a Mellon Bank branch and escaped on foot Wednesday.

She said she pushed more bills toward him. He picked them up and walked out of the Southside branch of Mellon Bank, unnoticed by several customers.

For Remainder Of Fiscal Year

Pa. Senate OK's Funds For Pleas Judges' Pay

By JOHN L. TAYLOR
Associated Press Writer

HARRISBURG (AP) — The General Assembly saw that justice was done for Pennsylvania's Common Pleas judges Wednesday before winding up the legislative week.

By a vote of 38-5, the Senate approved a $245,000 deficiency appropriation to pay the judges their salaries for the remainder of the current fiscal year.

The 265 jurists had been informed by the state early last week that their monthly paychecks would be delayed until the legislature acted on the bill.

One judge, Harold Paul of Schuylkill County, walked off the bench and vowed not to return until he was paid. He said he was going fishing in Canada.

The Senate tried to tack an amendment onto the measure to provide the legislature $90,000 for higher staff salaries, but the House refused to go along.

Both chambers were in recess today until Monday when House Democrats are expected to shed some light on exactly where they stand on the issue of spending and taxes.

Democratic leaders expressed hope they could present to their caucus a workable plan for resolving the state's financial dilemma.

Gov. Shafer met with House and Senate leaders of both parties at the Executive Mansion after the legislature adjourned for the week.

The meeting was closed, but reliable sources quoted the governor as saying the state's needs for new revenues had grown from $493 million to about $600 million.

Shafer noted that mental health and public assistance expenditures would be higher in the coming fiscal year than had been anticipated when he presented his budget in January.

Meanwhile, House Republicans continued their push for drastic cuts in the Shafer budget by introducing a discharge resolution.

The resolution, which could come to a vote next week, would force the Appropriations Committee to release a scaled down general appropriation bill for the new fiscal year.

Republicans proposed that Shafer's budget, which has now grown to $2.6 billion, be slashed by a half-billion dollars, but Democrats appeared reluctant to go that far.

Indications were that Democrats would come up with less drastic cuts and perhaps suggest an alternative to Shafer's unpopular income tax proposal as the financing tool.

Prior to adjournment, the House passed and sent to the Senate several significant bills, including one to make Veterans Day, Nov. 11, a school holiday.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I remove stubborn paint spots from clothing?

A.—These will usually yield to a mixture of turpentine (or mineral spirits) and ammonia. An entire section of my household-hints book is devoted to spots and stains of all kinds.

Q.—How can I sharpen the blade of a knife, a plane, a chisel, or any other cutting tool when there is no honing stone available?

A.—You can do a very good sharpening job with a piece of emery cloth laid out on a flat, smooth surface. Be sure to vary the pressure on the tool, bearing down hard at first in order to wear down the edge even, then gradually decreasing your pressure so as to produce a keen cutting edge.

Q.—Can you suggest a home method of repairing broken plastic eyeglass frames?

A.—A good mending job can often be done with acetone, procurable at most drugstores. Place the broken pieces together, holding them firmly in place, then dip the end of a match or cotton swab into the acetone and touch this to the broken edges. Keep repeating until the acetone has melted the plastic around the broken areas, and the pieces will fuse together and harden in about 30 minutes.

County Tax Bill Due Ohio House Group

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP—The Ohio House Ways and Means Committee is expected to receive next Wednesday, a controversial bill containing a graduated county income tax.

A tax shy subcommittee, which is studying the proposal, is not expected to recommend the bill to the committee.

"We're just working to come up with an agreed vehicle to hold hearings on," said subcommittee chairman E. W. Lampson, R-38 Jefferson, in an interview.

The only Republican leader who shows willingness to stick his neck out on the tax bill is Speaker Charles F. Kurfess, R-4 Perrysburg.

Kurfess indicated that he might be "flying alone," but that other Republican House leaders probably will decide next week what position to take.

The Ohio Education Association is the main force pushing the county income tax because it feels it is necessary to give additional state support to public schools.

But John H. Hall, OEA's expert on school legislation, said it "will be an uphill battle because the odds aren't with us."

Lampson introduced the county income tax bill that was drawn up under the direction of Kurfess.

A former newspaperman, Lampson said although there have been some changes in the original bill, 50 per cent of the tax would still be earmarked for education and 50 per cent for a mandatory reduction of school property taxes.

He said the 1 per cent income tax on individuals and businesses has been changed to a graduated tax.

There would be no tax on individual and business incomes less than $3,000, a 1 per cent tax on incomes up to $10,000, a 1½ per cent tax on incomes $10,000-$20,000, a 2 per cent tax on incomes $2,000-$40,000 and a 3 per cent tax on income over $40,000.

District Driver Cited After Two-Car Mishap

A Beaver County motorist was cited on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol Wednesday afternoon after a two-car crash on 6th St. at St. Clair Ave, police reported.

Patrolman Karl W. Samples, who witnessed the collision, cited David J. Hons of 706 Hall Ave., Aliquippa, whose 1964 sedan collided with a 1966 two-door sedan operated by Norman G. Curtis, 20, of 319 Garfield St. The mishap was timed at 2:50.

Samples said the two autos were in parallel lanes on 6th St. waiting for a traffic signal. When the light turned green, Hons started a left turn and hit the right front fender of the Curtis car, he said.

Clarification Offered On McConville Quotes

Statements critical of Supt. Paul Blair and the board of education for Monday's action separating the positions of football coach and athletic director were quotes from Harry McConville, board member, in The Review account of the meeting.

Mr. McConville referred to Dr. K. W. Turner's description of how Robert McNea was originally consulted about the faculty positions four years ago. The subsequent statements were personal comments by Mr. McConville and not a continuation of what Dr. Turner had said.

If World War II had continued, both Great Britain and Germany planned on loading all types of artillery shells with toxic chemicals, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

THE ENDLESS VACATION

You've been driving home all day, and you feel it's cooler on the Sahara and quieter at a Green Bay game. The kids are tired. The fussing in the back seat gets more annoying with every mile. Give up? Then consider a Thermo King auto air conditioner.

It cools faster than a factory system and it costs far less! You ride quiet with windows up, in air washed clean of dust and pollen.

For economy you can switch your Thermo King to your next car. That's important, because once you've had a Thermo King-cooled vacation, you'll never want to try the other kind again.

For Remainder Of Fiscal Year

Pa. Senate OK's Funds For Pleas Judges' Pay

By JOHN L. TAYLOR
Associated Press Writer

HARRISBURG (AP) — The General Assembly saw that justice was done for Pennsylvania's Common Pleas judges Wednesday before winding up the legislative week.

By a vote of 38-5, the Senate approved a $245,000 deficiency appropriation to pay the judges their salaries for the remainder of the current fiscal year.

The 265 jurists had been informed by the state early last week that their monthly paychecks would be delayed until the legislature acted on the bill.

One judge, Harold Paul of Schuylkill County, walked off the bench and vowed not to return until he was paid. He said he was going fishing in Canada.

The Senate tried to tack an amendment onto the measure to provide the legislature $90,000 for higher staff salaries, but the House refused to go along.

Both chambers were in recess today until Monday when House Democrats are expected to shed some light on exactly where they stand on the issue of spending and taxes.

Democratic leaders expressed hope they could present to their caucus a workable plan for resolving the state's financial dilemma.

Gov. Shafer met with House and Senate leaders of both parties at the Executive Mansion after the legislature adjourned for the week.

The meeting was closed, but reliable sources quoted the governor as saying the state's needs for new revenues had grown from $493 million to about $600 million.

Shafer noted that mental health and public assistance expenditures would be higher in the coming fiscal year than had been anticipated when he presented his budget in January.

Meanwhile, House Republicans continued their push for drastic cuts in the Shafer budget by introducing a discharge resolution.

The resolution, which could come to a vote next week, would force the Appropriations Committee to release a scaled down general appropriation bill for the new fiscal year.

Republicans proposed that Shafer's budget, which has now grown to $2.6 billion, be slashed by a half-billion dollars, but Democrats appeared reluctant to go that far.

Indications were that Democrats would come up with less drastic cuts and perhaps suggest an alternative to Shafer's unpopular income tax proposal as the financing tool.

Prior to adjournment, the House passed and sent to the Senate several significant bills, including one to make Veterans Day, Nov. 11, a school holiday.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I remove stubborn paint spots from clothing?

A.—These will usually yield to a mixture of turpentine (or mineral spirits) and ammonia. An entire section of my household-hints book is devoted to spots and stains of all kinds.

Q.—How can I sharpen the blade of a knife, a plane, a chisel, or any other cutting tool when there is no honing stone available?

A.—You can do a very good sharpening job with a piece of emery cloth laid out on a flat, smooth surface. Be sure to vary the pressure on the tool, bearing down hard at first in order to wear down the edge even, then gradually decreasing your pressure so as to produce a keen cutting edge.

Q.—Can you suggest a home method of repairing broken plastic eyeglass frames?

A.—A good mending job can often be done with acetone, procurable at most drugstores. Place the broken pieces together, holding them firmly in place, then dip the end of a match or cotton swab into the acetone and touch this to the broken edges. Keep repeating until the acetone has melted the plastic around the broken areas, and the pieces will fuse together and harden in about 30 minutes.

County Tax Bill Due Ohio House Group

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP—The Ohio House Ways and Means Committee is expected to receive next Wednesday, a controversial bill containing a graduated county income tax.

A tax shy subcommittee, which is studying the proposal, is not expected to recommend the bill to the committee.

"We're just working to come up with an agreed vehicle to hold hearings on," said subcommittee chairman E. W. Lampson, R-38 Jefferson, in an interview.

The only Republican leader who shows willingness to stick his neck out on the tax bill is Speaker Charles F. Kurfess, R-4 Perrysburg.

Kurfess indicated that he might be "flying alone," but that other Republican House leaders probably will decide next week what position to take.

The Ohio Education Association is the main force pushing the county income tax because it feels it is necessary to give additional state support to public schools.

But John H. Hall, OEA's expert on school legislation, said it "will be an uphill battle because the odds aren't with us."

Lampson introduced the county income tax bill that was drawn up under the direction of Kurfess.

A former newspaperman, Lampson said although there have been some changes in the original bill, 50 per cent of the tax would still be earmarked for education and 50 per cent for a mandatory reduction of school property taxes.

He said the 1 per cent income tax on individuals and businesses has been changed to a graduated tax.

There would be no tax on individual and business incomes less than $3,000, a 1 per cent tax on incomes up to $10,000, a 1½ per cent tax on incomes $10,000-$20,000, a 2 per cent tax on incomes $2,000-$40,000 and a 3 per cent tax on income over $40,000.

District Driver Cited After Two-Car Mishap

A Beaver County motorist was cited on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol Wednesday afternoon after a two-car crash on 6th St. at St. Clair Ave, police reported.

Patrolman Karl W. Samples, who witnessed the collision, cited David J. Hons of 706 Hall Ave., Aliquippa, whose 1964 sedan collided with a 1966 two-door sedan operated by Norman G. Curtis, 20, of 319 Garfield St. The mishap was timed at 2:50.

Samples said the two autos were in parallel lanes on 6th St. waiting for a traffic signal. When the light turned green, Hons started a left turn and hit the right front fender of the Curtis car, he said.

Clarification Offered On McConville Quotes

Statements critical of Supt. Paul Blair and the board of education for Monday's action separating the positions of football coach and athletic director were quotes from Harry McConville, board member, in The Review account of the meeting.

Mr. McConville referred to Dr. K. W. Turner's description of how Robert McNea was originally consulted about the faculty positions four years ago. The subsequent statements were personal comments by Mr. McConville and not a continuation of what Dr. Turner had said.

If World War II had continued, both Great Britain and Germany planned on loading all types of artillery shells with toxic chemicals, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

CARNEYS POINT, N. J. (AP) — A series of chain-reaction blasts, their origin still a mystery, ignited more than 100 tons of gunpowder Wednesday, leveling three storage buildings at the DuPont Co's explosive plant and killing at least four men. Three others are missing and presumed dead.

Fulbright Leads Outcry

Senate Critics Hit Nixon Isolationist Implication

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate critics of administration military policy, including at least one Republican, are taking strong issue with what they see as President Nixon's implications they are "the new isolationists."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright led the expected outcry from Democratic opponents of the Vietnam war and the proposed Safeguard antiballistic missile system—ABM—after Nixon's speech at the Air Force Academy.

But joining the barrage of Democratic dissent was Republican Sen. James B. Pearson of Kansas who said he doesn't know any fellow critics of high-level military spending who want unilateral U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam or to disarm alone.

"I disagree with the President," Pearson, an ABM critic, said in an interview. "What we want to do is to prevent the start of a new nuclear arms race. And I don't think it's isolationism to oppose excessive military spending."

Nixon said new isolationists have declared "open season on the armed forces" and were charting a disasterious course posing a false choice between meeting responsibilities at home or abroad.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Nixon's references to new isolationists offended him greatly.

Nixon's speech came the same day that Fulbright appeared before a Senate-House subcommittee to advocate a crackdown on defense outlays.

At an impromptu news conference, Fulbright accused Nixon of trying to make critics appear unpatriotic.

"Neither I nor this subcommittee is attacking the military forces of this country," Fulbright said. "We are questioning the political judgments that led us ino this quagmire."

Another Democrat, Sen. Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin, said it was unfortunate Nixon implied that "those who are vigorously opposing the ABM and defense boondoggles are unilateral disarmers and new isolationists."

"It is not unilateral disarmament to urge that we get down immediately to the business of arms control negotiations with the Soviet Union and, in the meantime, hold up the deployment of new weapons systems such as ABM which threaten to accelerate the deadly and costly arms race," Nelson said.

"And it is not isolationism or unilateral disarmament to insist that the war in Vietnam be ended and our troops brought home."

nam St. Continuing out of control, the vehicle sheared a fire hydrant, snapped a utility pole and demolished a bus shelter directly behind the pole. The car turned end-for-end and came to a halt on its roof.

Officers said the auto was registered to Mrs. Wolfe, but there has been no definite determination as to which woman was driving.

Mrs. Wolfe was born in East Liverpool March 5, 1923, a daughter of the late Howard and Hazel Downard Fisher. She was a nurse's aide at the East Liverpool Extended Care Center and worked last May 23.

She is survived by her husband, Eugene Wolfe, and four sons, Eugene Wolfe Jr., Terry Lee Wolfe, Richard D. Wolfe and Larry Allen Wolfe, all at home; a daughter, Mrs. Anthony (Betty Lou) Munoz of Midland; two brothers, Howard J. Fisher of East Liverpool and Herbert E. Fisher of East Palestine; a stepmother, Mrs. Grace Twyford of East Liverpool, and two grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Martin Funeral Home by Capt. Richard Bosh of the Salvation Army. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Hancock Hearing Set For Boy In Car Theft

A hearing will be held later this month before Judge Ralph Pryor in Hancock County Juvenile Court for an East Liverpool youth charged with auto theft.

He was released from jail after posting $500 bond. The youth first appeared before Squire John D. Herron at New Cumberland. He was arrested by West Virginia State Police following investigation of an auto accident on Route 30 last month. The car, officers said, was stolen from Waterford Park.

Sample Of Handwriting Studied In Check Charge

LISBON — "State's Exhibit 44" — a handwriting specimen written in the presence of a Common Pleas Court jury this morning — was admitted into evidence in the trial of an East Liverpool man charged with forgery.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard sustained the motion of Asst. Prosecutor Richard Clark for an order requiring Robert L. Heiney, 23, of Ravine St., to give the state a sample of his handwriting.

Det. Capt. Kenneth Mooney asked Heiney for a handwriting sample during the investigation of the case, but Heiney refused.

After the exhibit was admitted, the court sustained Clark's motion for a recess to submit the handwriting specimen to Walter Knight of the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation. The handwriting expert was in the Courthouse.

The trial began Wednesday with Heiney conducting his own defense, consulting only occasionally with Paul Tobin of East Liverpool, court - appointed defense counsel.

Det. William Devon was under examination for almost three hours by the defendant yesterday.

It was Tobin who argued against Clark's motion this morning. He said the state's request should have been made during investigation of the case, not midway through the trial, and that to grant the motion would amount to requiring Heiney to cooperate with the state against himself.

Heiney maintains he does not know the source of the check which police said they found in his wallet. They subsequently obtained a search warrant and found in Heiney's home a check protector of check-writing machine and a book of blank checks imprinted with the names of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Cummings, who formerly operated a nursing home in East Liverpool.

On the jury are Robert C. Nicholson, James Jobe, Mary Jean Cooke and Elizabeth Kelly, East Liverpool; Shirley Lanam and Kathryn Carpenter, Wellsville; Janice A. Steitz, Lisbon; Mary E. Quaresino, New Waterford; Harold E. John, Hanoverton, and Theresa Fithian, Ruth Schmidt and William Barry, Salem. Mary E. Simmons, Rogers, is the alternate.

It was a cold night Tuesday at Forbes Field, and the Pirate fielders played as if they had gloves on.

With perfect defense, Cincinnati would have gotten only one run. At it was the Reds downed the Pirates 7-3.

The Bucs made two errors in the second inning, but Bob Veale survived that without a run. The big lefthander was at his fastest, striking out 10 over the first five innings. But in the sixth he ran into trouble. Bob Tolan, who had struck out twice backing away from the plate, got a two-strike hit and was sacrificed to second. Tony Perez foul-tipped a 3-2 pitch, but catcher Manny Sanguillen dropped the ball and Johnson walked. Lee May singled to score Tolan with the only legitimate run of the game.

THEN CAME real trouble. Johnny Bench hit a liner right at Willie Stargell in left, but the Pirate fielder let it bounce off his glove and all the way to the light tower. Perez scored easily, but there was a chance to get May at home. Stargell's throw missed the cutoff man, but Richie Webner backed up. His throw home was low and got by Sanguillen as May scored.

Roberto Clemente hit a three-run homer off Jim Merritt, who kept fooling the Bucs with a high, off-speed pitch, to tie the score. But the Reds took the lead for good in the seventh. Veale made the mistake of walking Merritt. Jim Beauchamp hit a double-play grounder to Hebner, but the rookie's throw to second was wide, and though Bill Mazeroski made the force play, he couldn't double Beauchamp. An out and a stolen base later Alex Johnson singled in a run. Then Johnson appeared out trying to steal, but he kicked the ball out of Mazeroski's hand, inflicting a three-stitch cut in the process. Perez singled in Johnson, causing Veale to depart.

IN THE eighth, with Ronnie Kline on the mound, the sloppy play continued. Bench singled and Tommy Helms bunted. Sanguillen pounced on the ball and had a chance to get Bench at second, but threw low and the ball went into center field, with the runners moving to second and third. Darrell Chaney singled for a run, but was trapped off first when Clemente's throw was cut off. But Gene Alley, switched to second due to Mazeroski's injury, dropped a throw in the rundown and Chaney got back to first. Then, with the infield up, Hebner bobbled a grounder by Beauchamp. The batter was out at first but Helms scored on the play.

Montreal Loses 18th Straight

By DICK COUCH

Big Giants, little Giants . . . they're all 10 feet tall to Gene Mauch and his incredible Shrinking Men.

The bottom of the San Francisco batting order fell upon Mauch Wednesday night, leading the Giants to an 8-5 victory over Montreal that ran the Expos' losing streak to 18 games — a record for major league expansion clubs.

Jack Hiatt, Hal Lanier, pitcher Mike McCormick and Don Mason stroked the big hits off rookie Mike Wegener in a five-run fourth inning explosion that sent the Expos spinning within five losses of the all-time mark —set by Mauch's 1961 Philadelphia Phillies.

The New York Mets, whose 17-game expansion tailspin in 1962 was eclipsed by Montreal, equaled their record winning string of seven games by nipping Los Angeles 1-0 in a 15-inning struggle.

Streaking San Diego blanked Philadelphia 3-0; torrid Cincinnati swept past Pittsburgh 5-3; St. Louis edged Atlanta 4-3 and the Chicago Cubs topped Houston 5-4 in other National League games.

Wegener took a 3-0 lead into the fourth inning at Montreal, walked Willie Mays and then got two quick outs—Willie McCovey on a pop-up and Ken Henderson on strikes.

But Dave Marshall drew another walk, Hiatt and Lanier rapped run-scoring singles and McCormick sent the Giants ahead 4-3 with a two-run double before Mason's RBI single capped the rally.

Three ninth inning runs wrapped up McCormick's third victory and left Mauch bleeding sarcasm in the tomblike Montreal clubhouse.

"Mike (Wegener) was pitching great until that Murderers Row of Hiatt, Lanier, McCormick and Mason came up in the fourth," said the embattled Expos' pilot.

Lanier and Mason, who went into the game batting .221 and .214, respectively, each went 3-for-5 to pace the Giants' 12-hit attack.

The Mets broke a scoreless tie in the 15th when Tommie Agee raced home from first on a single by Wayne Garrett that skipped past center fielder Willie Davis for a two-base error.

After Met second baseman Al Weis cut down pinch runner Billy Grabarkewitz at the plate in the top of the 15th on a brilliant defensive play, Bud Harrelson drew a leadoff walk from Pete Mikkelsen in the bottom half. Agee forced Harrelson a second, then sped around the bases when Davis overran Garrett's sharp single to center.

The victory enabled the Mets to match their seven-game winning streak of July, 1966, and sent them two games over the .500 mark.

Southpaw Jack DiLauro, making his first major league start, dueled Dodger fastballer Bill Singer through nine brilliant innings. Each gave up two hits, Singer retiring the first 18 Met batters and DiLauro setting down the last 19 Dodgers he faced.

Singer also fanned 10 to take the league strikeout lead with 92.

"A year or two years ago, we lose a game like that," said Met star Cleon Jones. "That's the difference. We're not beating ourselves anymore."

Pitcher Dick Kelley knocked in two runs with a double and collaborated with two relievers on a four-hitter that propelled the expansion Padres to their sixth consecutive victory.

Kelley held the Phillies hitless for 4 1-3 innings and checked them on three hits until the ninth, when he needed mop-up help from Jack Baldschun and Billy McCool.

Trailing 3-2 in the ninth, the Reds rebounded for three runs and their 11th triumph in 12 games to move within two games of Atlanta's fading West Division leaders.

Carew Steals Home Again Twins Edge Yankees 4-2

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Minnesota Manager Billy Martin says stealing home is not a forgotten art, but American League pitchers are having trouble getting the picture where Rod Carew is concerned.

The Twins' second baseman swiped home for the fifth time in five attempts this season in Minnesota's 4-2 victory over the New York Yankees Wednesday night and closed in on a couple of records. He also rapped out three hits and riased his major league-leading average to .399.

Elsewhere, Baltimore trounced Oakland 6-1, Detroit nipped California 5-4 in 10 innings, Cleveland pounded Seattle 10-4 and Washington beat Kansas City 3-1. In the only afternoon action, the Chicago White Sox hammered Boston 7-2.

Carew doubled in the sixth and eventually scored the winning run on Graig Nettles' sacrifice fly and stole home with an insurance run in the eighth on the front end of a triple steal against Lindy McDaniel.

"Martin tells me to watch the pitcher when I get on third," said Carew, who has stolen only 10 bases all-told. "Watch his windup, his timing. The slide is important, too. But I can't tell you all my secrets because I might get caught."

Martin said all five of Carew's big thefts "have been straight steals home. Stealing home is not a forgotten art but an art that hasn't been used enough." He said the threat of stealing home "creates balks, wild pitches. This makes the pitcher give you a good pitch to hit."

The American League record for stealing home in one season is six by Detroit's Ty Cobb in 1915 and Cleveland's Bob Roth in 1917. Pete Reiser of Brooklyn set the major league mark with seven in 1946.

Leo Cardenas and Ted Uhlaender singled in the first two Minnesota runs in the fifth and reliever Ron Perranoski picked up his 12th save by halting a bases-loaded threat in the eighth as the Twins increased their lead in the American League West to 3½ games over Oakland. Bill Robinson homered for the Yankees.

Don Buford belted the first pitch of the game over the right field fence to ignite Baltimore's victory over Oakland. Boog Powell also homered in the first, Clay Dalrymple connected for the first time as American Leaguer in the fourth, Powell doubled home another run in the seventh and Brooks Robbins hit a pair of sacrifice flies as the Orioles won for the 15th time in 18 games and boosted their lead over Boston in the AL East to 4½ games.

Tom Phoebus, 6-1, hurled a four-hitter for the Orioles and the only run he surrendered was unearned.

Al Kaline drove in Detroit's first four runs with a double, infield out and sacrifice fly and then singled in the 10th inning to set up the winner as the Tigers ended a three-game losing streak. Pinch runner Dick Tracewski stole second, took third on a passed ball and scored on Bill Freehan's infield single.

Lee Maye doubled home a pair of runs and Tony Horton singled in two more in a five-run Cleveland fifth against Seattle. Vern Fuller homered in the ninth for the Indians, Sam McDowell struck out 10 Pilots in 7 1-3 innings and reliever Stan Williams fanned three more.

Ken McMullen and Bernie Allen stroked run-scoring singles after Frank Howard's double and an intentional walk to Mike Epstein in the sixth inning as Washington beat Kansas City behind Joe Coleman's first complete game since April 9. Epstein hit his 13th homer in the fourth.

The White Sox gave the Red Sox a taste of their own home run medicine. Rookies Ed Herrmann and Gail Hopkins and veteran Bobby Knoop accounted for six runs with homers as Chicago walloped Boston behind the strong pitching of Tommy John. Herrmann's homer was his first in the majors.

Holtz Head Coach At William & Mary

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State football Coach Woody Hayes has lost another top assistant.

Lou Holtz, a defensive backfield coach the past two seasons, signed a three-year contract Wednesday as head coach at William & Mary College in Williamsburg, Va.

Holtz is a 1954 graduate of East Liverpool High and played football here and at Kent State. He had been an assistant coach at Connecticut, Iowa and South Carolina before taking the Ohio State job. He is married to the former Beth Barcus of East Liverpool.

Hayes' immediately announced that Holtz' successor at OSU would be Dick Walker, former assistant at The University of Toledo, and, since February, an assistant at the U. S. Naval Academy.

Only recently, Hayes lost defensive line Coach Bill Mallory to the head coaching job at Miami of Ohio and freshman Coach Glenn "Tiger" Ellison then announced his retirement.

Hayes, whose Buckeyes won the Rose Bowl crown and the national championship last season, expressed regret over the loss of Holtz.

"He leaves with our blessing and we know he will turn out good teams at William & Mary," Woody said.

Walker, 35, a former high school coach in Columbus, also came in for praise.

LOU HOLTZ

"Walker did a great job at Watterson High and he played a major part in the recent success of football teams at the University of Toledo," Hayes reported.

In his tenure at Watterson (1960 - 66), Walker compiled a 51-11-3 record and won one state championship.

Pro Football Considers Cutting Player Limit

NEW YORK (AP) — Pro football's club owners discussed a possible cut of the player limit today as they pressed ahead with committee reports that have been sidetracked since the lengthy realignment talks.

The player limit, which is set at 36 in the constitution of both the American and National Football Leagues, was voted to the 40-man level by the NFL in 1964 with the AFL following that pattern two years later.

Now the owners are considering a cutback, probably to 38 or 39, as a method of increasing the talent available to the clubs at the bottom of the standings.

"In most cases," said Commissioner Pete Rozelle, "clubs down the ladder like to get a shot at the players cut from the talent-rich clubs."

Asked if trimming the player limit could be construed by the Players Associations in both leagues as a way of cutting down player payrolls, Rozelle said:

"I don't know, you'd have to ask them. Maybe there are some clubs thinking that way, but I think in most cases it's the other reason."

A rule also was recommended that would outlaw gimmickry in placekicking shoes by restricting footwear to shoes that are available for general purchase in sporting goods stores. To become effective for the 1969 season, it requires eight of 10 votes in the AFL and 13 of 16 in the NFL.

Appliance Tops Hamilton's 8-3

LISBON — Wellsville Appliance downed Hamilton's Drug Store 8-3 and Toot Trucking beat Salem Emscon 13-2 in softball league games Wednesday night on the Salem Rd. diamond.

Jim Pike, with two doubles and a single, was the hitting star for Wellsville. Don Conser, Hamilton's pitcher, had a double and triple and teammate Dick Rose hit a triple. Jerry Cannon was the winning pitcher.

Don Kendrick, Chuck Montgomery and Dick Andric all tripled for the Truckers. Harry Lloyd, with a homer, and John Beverly, with two hits, led the Emscon nine. Sonny Thompson was the winning pitcher and Neal Paxson the loser.

Play will resume Monday evening with Toot playing Hamilton's at 5:45 and Uncle Pete's of Wellsville meeting Emscon at 7.

Lawyer Rally Nips Salem In Colt Play

The Lawyers rallied for four runs in the sixth inning to edge Salem 7-6 in a Colt League game at the Colt Field last night.

The loss was the first for the visitors in loop play.

Bob Robinson was safe on an error to start the big rally. George Whitaker walked and Dutch Wright singled for one run. Jim Tipton singled for a second run and Ben Gregory singled to tie the game. The winning run scored when the left fielder bobbled Gregory's hit, allowing Tipton to score.

Salem was not through, however. In the seventh Cody led off with a walk and Whitaker relieved Tipton on the mound. Riffle singled and the ball got by rightfielder Wright for an error, putting men on second and third with no one out. But Whitaker fanned the next two batters and got the final out on a grounder.

Gregery led the attack with two hits and four RBIs, while Tipton had a double and single.

The victory enabled the Mets to match their seven-game winning streak of July, 1966, and sent them two games over the .500 mark.

Southpaw Jack DiLauro, making his first major league start, dueled Dodger fastballer Bill Singer through nine brilliant innings. Each gave up two hits, Singer retiring the first 18 Met batters and DiLauro setting down the last 19 Dodgers he faced.

Singer also fanned 10 to take the league strikeout lead with 92.

"A year or two years ago, we lose a game like that," said Met star Cleon Jones. "That's the difference. We're not beating ourselves anymore."

Pitcher Dick Kelley knocked in two runs with a double and collaborated with two relievers on a four-hitter that propelled the expansion Padres to their sixth consecutive victory.

Kelley held the Phillies hitless for 4 1-3 innings and checked them on three hits until the ninth, when he needed mop-up help from Jack Baldschun and Billy McCool.

Trailing 3-2 in the ninth, the Reds rebounded for three runs and their 11th triumph in 12 games to move within two games of Atlanta's fading West Division leaders.

Lawyer Rally Nips Salem In Colt Play

The Lawyers rallied for four runs in the sixth inning to edge Salem 7-6 in a Colt League game at the Colt Field last night.

The loss was the first for the visitors in loop play.

Bob Robinson was safe on an error to start the big rally. George Whitaker walked and Dutch Wright singled for one run. Jim Tipton singled for a second run and Ben Gregory singled to tie the game. The winning run scored when the left fielder bobbled Gregory's hit, allowing Tipton to score.

Salem was not through, however. In the seventh Cody led off with a walk and Whitaker relieved Tipton on the mound. Riffle singled and the ball got by rightfielder Wright for an error, putting men on second and third with no one out. But Whitaker fanned the next two batters and got the final out on a grounder.

Gregery led the attack with two hits and four RBIs, while Tipton had a double and single.

Carew Steals Home Again Twins Edge Yankees 4-2

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Minnesota Manager Billy Martin says stealing home is not a forgotten art, but American League pitchers are having trouble getting the picture where Rod Carew is concerned.

The Twins' second baseman swiped home for the fifth time in five attempts this season in Minnesota's 4-2 victory over the New York Yankees Wednesday night and closed in on a couple of records. He also rapped out three hits and riased his major league-leading average to .399.

Elsewhere, Baltimore trounced Oakland 6-1, Detroit nipped California 5-4 in 10 innings, Cleveland pounded Seattle 10-4 and Washington beat Kansas City 3-1. In the only afternoon action, the Chicago White Sox hammered Boston 7-2.

Carew doubled in the sixth and eventually scored the winning run on Graig Nettles' sacrifice fly and stole home with an insurance run in the eighth on the front end of a triple steal against Lindy McDaniel.

"Martin tells me to watch the pitcher when I get on third," said Carew, who has stolen only 10 bases all-told. "Watch his windup, his timing. The slide is important, too. But I can't tell you all my secrets because I might get caught."

Martin said all five of Carew's big thefts "have been straight steals home. Stealing home is not a forgotten art but an art that hasn't been used enough." He said the threat of stealing home "creates balks, wild pitches. This makes the pitcher give you a good pitch to hit."

The American League record for stealing home in one season is six by Detroit's Ty Cobb in 1915 and Cleveland's Bob Roth in 1917. Pete Reiser of Brooklyn set the major league mark with seven in 1946.

Leo Cardenas and Ted Uhlaender singled in the first two Minnesota runs in the fifth and reliever Ron Perranoski picked up his 12th save by halting a bases-loaded threat in the eighth as the Twins increased their lead in the American League West to 3½ games over Oakland. Bill Robinson homered for the Yankees.

Don Buford belted the first pitch of the game over the right field fence to ignite Baltimore's victory over Oakland. Boog Powell also homered in the first, Clay Dalrymple connected for the first time as American Leaguer in the fourth, Powell doubled home another run in the seventh and Brooks Robbins hit a pair of sacrifice flies as the Orioles won for the 15th time in 18 games and boosted their lead over Boston in the AL East to 4½ games.

Tom Phoebus, 6-1, hurled a four-hitter for the Orioles and the only run he surrendered was unearned.

Al Kaline drove in Detroit's first four runs with a double, infield out and sacrifice fly and then singled in the 10th inning to set up the winner as the Tigers ended a three-game losing streak. Pinch runner Dick Tracewski stole second, took third on a passed ball and scored on Bill Freehan's infield single.

Lee Maye doubled home a pair of runs and Tony Horton singled in two more in a five-run Cleveland fifth against Seattle. Vern Fuller homered in the ninth for the Indians, Sam McDowell struck out 10 Pilots in 7 1-3 innings and reliever Stan Williams fanned three more.

Ken McMullen and Bernie Allen stroked run-scoring singles after Frank Howard's double and an intentional walk to Mike Epstein in the sixth inning as Washington beat Kansas City behind Joe Coleman's first complete game since April 9. Epstein hit his 13th homer in the fourth.

The White Sox gave the Red Sox a taste of their own home run medicine. Rookies Ed Herrmann and Gail Hopkins and veteran Bobby Knoop accounted for six runs with homers as Chicago walloped Boston behind the strong pitching of Tommy John. Herrmann's homer was his first in the majors.

Holtz Head Coach At William & Mary

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State football Coach Woody Hayes has lost another top assistant.

Lou Holtz, a defensive backfield coach the past two seasons, signed a three-year contract Wednesday as head coach at William & Mary College in Williamsburg, Va.

Holtz is a 1954 graduate of East Liverpool High and played football here and at Kent State. He had been an assistant coach at Connecticut, Iowa and South Carolina before taking the Ohio State job. He is married to the former Beth Barcus of East Liverpool.

Hayes' immediately announced that Holtz' successor at OSU would be Dick Walker, former assistant at The University of Toledo, and, since February, an assistant at the U. S. Naval Academy.

Only recently, Hayes lost defensive line Coach Bill Mallory to the head coaching job at Miami of Ohio and freshman Coach Glenn "Tiger" Ellison then announced his retirement.

Hayes, whose Buckeyes won the Rose Bowl crown and the national championship last season, expressed regret over the loss of Holtz.

"He leaves with our blessing and we know he will turn out good teams at William & Mary," Woody said.

Walker, 35, a former high school coach in Columbus, also came in for praise.

LOU HOLTZ

"Walker did a great job at Watterson High and he played a major part in the recent success of football teams at the University of Toledo," Hayes reported.

In his tenure at Watterson (1960 - 66), Walker compiled a 51-11-3 record and won one state championship.

Wade Watts' Father Dies In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Ray E. Watts, 73, who retired in 1960 after 22 years as athletic director of Baldwin-Wallace College, will be buried Saturday in Berea after suffering a fatal stroke Tuesday night.

Watts, father of former Canton McKinley High School football coach Wade Watts, coached football at Baldwin-Wallace for 21 years and posted 104 wins, 54 losses and 14 ties before resigning in 1949.

He resigned from coaching basketball at the college in 1958 with 246 wins and 182 losses.

Watts coached Cleveland's first professional football team, the Panthers, to a 5-2 record in 1926.

Pro Football Considers Cutting Player Limit

NEW YORK (AP) — Pro football's club owners discussed a possible cut of the player limit today as they pressed ahead with committee reports that have been sidetracked since the lengthy realignment talks.

The player limit, which is set at 36 in the constitution of both the American and National Football Leagues, was voted to the 40-man level by the NFL in 1964 with the AFL following that pattern two years later.

Now the owners are considering a cutback, probably to 38 or 39, as a method of increasing the talent available to the clubs at the bottom of the standings.

"In most cases," said Commissioner Pete Rozelle, "clubs down the ladder like to get a shot at the players cut from the talent-rich clubs."

Asked if trimming the player limit could be construed by the Players Associations in both leagues as a way of cutting down player payrolls, Rozelle said:

"I don't know, you'd have to ask them. Maybe there are some clubs thinking that way, but I think in most cases it's the other reason."

A rule also was recommended that would outlaw gimmickry in placekicking shoes by restricting footwear to shoes that are available for general purchase in sporting goods stores. To become effective for the 1969 season, it requires eight of 10 votes in the AFL and 13 of 16 in the NFL.

Appliance Tops Hamilton's 8-3

LISBON — Wellsville Appliance downed Hamilton's Drug Store 8-3 and Toot Trucking beat Salem Emscon 13-2 in softball league games Wednesday night on the Salem Rd. diamond.

Jim Pike, with two doubles and a single, was the hitting star for Wellsville. Don Conser, Hamilton's pitcher, had a double and triple and teammate Dick Rose hit a triple. Jerry Cannon was the winning pitcher.

Don Kendrick, Chuck Montgomery and Dick Andric all tripled for the Truckers. Harry Lloyd, with a homer, and John Beverly, with two hits, led the Emscon nine. Sonny Thompson was the winning pitcher and Neal Paxson the loser.

Play will resume Monday evening with Toot playing Hamilton's at 5:45 and Uncle Pete's of Wellsville meeting Emscon at 7.

Mexican Net Star Osuna Dead In Crash Of Plane

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Rafael Osuna, the king of Mexican tennis, was among 79 believed killed Wednesday in the mountain crash of a Mexican jet airliner about 31 miles west of Monterrey.

Bad weather and the isolated area where the plane crashed caused delay in reaching the site.

Osuna, 30, realized one of his greatest ambitions in a colorful tennis career only 10 days ago. He led Mexico to a stunning 3-2 conquest of proud Australia in the North American Zone Davis Cup competition.

The triumph over the Aussies was the first in 12 meetings between the two countries since 1924. It meant the Aussies would not be able to reach the Challenge Round for the first time since 1937.

"One of my last ambitions in tennis was to beat Australia," Osuna said. "I've always wanted to win the singles at Wimbledon, but you can't have everything."

Osuna achieved other great tennis accomplishments also. He became the first Mexican to win the U.S. men's singles title at Forest Hills, N.Y., in 1963.

He was a member of the championship men's doubles team at Wimbledon two times. When he was only 21, he teamed with Dennis Ralston of the United States for the victory in 1960. In 1963, he repeated playing with countryman Antonio Palafox.

Osuna was a star at Southern California and won the intercollegiate singles crown in 1962. He took the doubles title in the collegiate ranks in 1961 and 1962 with Ramsey Earnhart and in 1963 with Ralston as his partner.

During the last four years, Osuna reduced the time he spent in international tennis competition. He limited himself to the big tournaments and the Davis Cup.

For the past two years, he has been on the public relations staff of an American tobacco company and spent much of his time outside of Mexico.

Osuna and his blonde wife, Leslie, had four children who ranged in age from 4 months to 10 years.

The airliner which crashed was on a domestic flight and was a Mexicana de Aviacion 707 jet. The crash occurred in the Tress Picos Mountains.

Mexican Net Star Osuna Dead In Crash Of Plane

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Rafael Osuna, the king of Mexican tennis, was among 79 believed killed Wednesday in the mountain crash of a Mexican jet airliner about 31 miles west of Monterrey.

Bad weather and the isolated area where the plane crashed caused delay in reaching the site.

Osuna, 30, realized one of his greatest ambitions in a colorful tennis career only 10 days ago. He led Mexico to a stunning 3-2 conquest of proud Australia in the North American Zone Davis Cup competition.

The triumph over the Aussies was the first in 12 meetings between the two countries since 1924. It meant the Aussies would not be able to reach the Challenge Round for the first time since 1937.

"One of my last ambitions in tennis was to beat Australia," Osuna said. "I've always wanted to win the singles at Wimbledon, but you can't have everything."

Osuna achieved other great tennis accomplishments also. He became the first Mexican to win the U.S. men's singles title at Forest Hills, N.Y., in 1963.

He was a member of the championship men's doubles team at Wimbledon two times. When he was only 21, he teamed with Dennis Ralston of the United States for the victory in 1960. In 1963, he repeated playing with countryman Antonio Palafox.

Osuna was a star at Southern California and won the intercollegiate singles crown in 1962. He took the doubles title in the collegiate ranks in 1961 and 1962 with Ramsey Earnhart and in 1963 with Ralston as his partner.

During the last four years, Osuna reduced the time he spent in international tennis competition. He limited himself to the big tournaments and the Davis Cup.

For the past two years, he has been on the public relations staff of an American tobacco company and spent much of his time outside of Mexico.

Osuna and his blonde wife, Leslie, had four children who ranged in age from 4 months to 10 years.

The airliner which crashed was on a domestic flight and was a Mexicana de Aviacion 707 jet. The crash occurred in the Tress Picos Mountains.

Junior Editors Quiz on MISTLETOE

QUESTION: How does mistletoe start growing on trees?

ANSWER: Mistletoe is a curious vine which lives on certain trees. It has evergreen leaves and clusters of attractive white berries. These berries are sticky, with seeds inside, and are eaten by birds. The bird wipes his beak on the bark of a tree to clean it, and some of the seeds are left on the tree. These sprout and send feelers into the tree, making a connection through which the vine gets water and minerals. The Roman writer Pliny records that, along with the oak tree, the mistletoe was regarded as sacred by the ancient cult of the Druids. Many of our Christmas symbols have their roots in ancient customs. People in Scandinavia are said to have been the first to hang up mistletoe. The tradition seemed to have been that a sprig of mistletoe would lead toward marriage. From this probably came the custom of hanging it up to give a gay romantic note to the Christmas festivities. Catch someone standing under the mistletoe, says the custom, and you have the right to a kiss.
